Local Traffic Mishaps Hurt 2 Youngsters

Boy, 9, Hospitalized When Struck By Car In Downtown Area

A young boy was hospitalized Monday afternoon when struck by a car while walking from behind his mother's auto on Jackson St. and a Beechwood child was injured in a collision yesterday morning on the North Side, police reported.

Dewey James Morris, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Morris of R. D. 2, is in "fairly good" condition in City Hospital with a possible groin injury suffered in the mishap shortly before 4 p. m. yesterday at Jackson St. and Summit Ln.

The youngster was struck by a car operated by Richard Lee Jackson, 20, of 418 Johnson Pl., Wellsville, police said.

Johnson told police he was headed north on Jackson St. and pulled into the left lane to pass two halted cars when the boy ran between the cars into the path of his auto.

Mrs. Morris said she had pulled around a car that was parking and stopped about 12 feet from Summit Ln. and let her son out of the car.

He walked to the rear of the auto and prepared to cross the street, the mother said. She told officers she didn't see anyone behind her but then heard her son scream and saw him lying in the street.

Lone Bid Of $23,869 Received On River Wall

A lone bid of $23,869.40 for a retaining wall to protect Chester's upper pump house was opened at the deadline Monday noon.

It was submitted by the Pennsylvania Drilling Co. of Pittsburgh. Jess Smith of McGill & Smith Consulting Engineers of Bethel and Carey, Ohio, was present for the bid opening along with Atty. Ruth Cox Turner, city solicitor.

Smith will submit the bid to the U. S. Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh for consideration, since the project will be financed by the federal government after completion.

The wall will be needed because the Ohio River pool level will rise with the completion of the Stratton super-dam. It was believed earlier that the bid would be opened prior to Wednesday's Council meeting, but Smith said it was the procedure to open them at the deadline.

State Official Talks For 250 At 'Workshop'

Dr. E. E. Holt, Ohio superintendent of public instruction, was the main speaker at the morning session, discussing the expansion of education.

Individual workshop sessions were held during the afternoon. The group adopted a resolution asking the county commissioners to provide additional facilities for the county education office at Lisbon.

Jerry Russell, president, was in charge of the business session, and the invocation was given by the Rev. James McCollam of the Calvary United Presbyterian Church.

Jack F. Baker, executive head of the Southern Local School District, gave the welcome, and County Supt. James McBride introduced Dr. Holt. A luncheon was served by the Salineville Band Boosters Club.

Scout Rocket Fired By U.S.

Designed To Detect A-Blasts In Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today launched a 72-foot Scout rocket aimed to soar 3,700 miles high and 6,100 miles out over the Atlantic on a mission that could help develop a technique for detecting nuclear explosions in space.

Primarily, the shot was designed to test the flight performance of this unique solid fuel and relatively low cost rocket which is slated for various important space-exploring missions in the near future.

But the rocket also carried a special Air Force experiment designed to test the feasibility of spotting radiation from sneak nuclear explosions high above the atmosphere. Such explosions, touched off by an enemy, could cast a kind of electronic curtain around the earth, knocking another nation's early warning system and hiding the approach of attacking missiles or bombers.

West Point Man, 20, And Illinois Resident Held In $1,455 Case

A West Point man and another from Illinois have been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury on charges of breaking and entering a maintenance barn at Waterford Park Race Track late Sunday night and stealing $1,455 worth of tools and equipment.

Russell Dwyne Lightner of West Point and Arnold William Scogin of Champaign, Ill., both 20, pleaded guilty to the charges when arraigned Monday night before Squire John Herron of New Cumberland.

Lightner, a groom at the race track, and Scogin, an exercise boy, face charges of hauling away an auto load of valuable tools and equipment from the race track's maintenance barn which they entered about midnight Sunday to siphon gasoline, sheriff's deputies said today.

They were bound over to the January Grand Jury under $2,000 bonds and are lodged in the New Cumberland Jail today in lieu of bond.

The two have confessed to stealing copper tubing, copper ground rods, socket wrenches, a pair of spray guns, tire patching, light bulbs, acetylene torch tips and other equipment, the sheriff's office reported.

They also hauled away a heavy booster battery valued at $120, automotive supplies and pressure regulators and hid the loot in brush in a field near West Point, deputies reported.

The track has recovered most of the items stolen after the pair was arrested Monday night by Deputy William B. King Jr. and a Columbiana County sheriff's deputy.

Mr. K Again Is Center Of Speculation

Taking Orders Now, Not Giving Them, U.N. Circles Hint

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's extended stay in the United States and his performances at the U.N. arouse speculation again that he is taking orders, rather than giving them.

This speculation developed last May in Paris, inspired by sudden flipflops in policies Khrushchev had appeared to be pursuing.

Much was printed about the possibility that powerful Soviet military figures might be wielding a balance of power in Moscow. The thought was that these military men had been won over by hardline Stalinists who now were calling the shots.

Khrushchev's activities during the U.N. General Assembly session have been curious. One gets the impression he is a man carrying out specific orders and that he even might, from time to time, be taken to task for the way he is doing the job.

To understand the reasoning behind the speculation concerning Khrushchev's current situation, it is necessary to take a look backward.

Khrushchev, at what seemed the crest of his power and authority, had been driving hard along lines of a program for what he called peaceful coexistence. The Soviet Union would avoid the risk of total war while mounting political and economic offensives to break down resistance to Soviet concepts of how peace should be imposed.

That would take time, and there were impatient men in the world Communist movement. Meanwhile some attractive prospects for militant, aggressive communist action were emerging in the Middle East, in Africa, in Cuba.

In 1958, Khrushchev imposed a go-slow policy in the Middle East, at the expense of a strong Communist party in Iraq which all but had that oil-rich nation in its grasp.

It is likely this and other cautious Khrushchev actions, inhibiting Communists from dangerous activity, raised some resentment

Peace Talks Are Called In GE Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal mediators summoned the General Electric Co. and the striking International Union of Electrical Workers to new peace talks today.

Negotiations had broken off before IUE members struck GE plants across the country last Saturday night. The two sides were deadlocked over terms of a new contract, including wages and a cost-of-living clause.

A three-man mediation board will meet with company and union representatives at the New York offices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

At Syracuse, N. Y., a screaming, shoving throng of about 800 pickets staged a brawl with some 210 officers in an attempt to prevent nonstrikers from entering GE's Electronics Park plant. No one was injured, but 12 IUE men were arrested on disorderly conduct charges, including John Stanley, 41, business agent of Local 320.

Picket line skirmishes were reported at various GE plants Monday. Several arrests were made and some injuries were reported.

The union said that except for employes of the big GE plant at Schenectady, N.Y., less than 1,000 workers crossed IUE picket lines in the rest of the country.

GE said the strike had been "far from crippling" and that only one plant—in Philadelphia—had been "bottled up" by mass picketing.

Castro Seen In 'Big Deal' With Russia

Would Make Cuba Dependent On Reds For All Imports

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime is planning a big barter deal that will make Cuba completly dependent on the Communist bloc for imports in return for all the island's sugar, government sources report.

The informants said the National Bank's extreme leftist chief, Ernesto Guevara, is going to Moscow for the Nov. 7 celebration of the Bolshevik revolution with the primary purpose of trading Cuba's entire sugar crop for years to come.

Communist countries, including Red China, already have agreed to take more than a third of the 1961 sugar crop. Formerly the United States took about a third of Cuba's average six-million ton crop.

The informants said Guevara will propose to sell sugar to the Soviet bloc at 3.25 cents per pound, the price Cuba has set as the export minimum. When Cuba made its first sugar barter deal with the Soviet Union last February, she agreed to sell sugar at the world price, which was then about 3 cents a pound, or about 2 to 2½ cents less than the premium price paid by the United States.

The 3.25 cents a pound would be about ¾ of a cent below production cost by private sugar companies. The former daily wage of Cuba's half million sugar workers already has been cut 3.14 pesos to 2.60 pesos.

South Korea Seeks 400 Million From U.S.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean government has asked the United States to provide 400 million dollars during the next five years in special economic aid to help tide it over economic difficulties, Seoul newspapers reported today.

A government note requesting the extra aid was handed to the director of the American aid mission here last week, the reports said, quoting government officials.

$4 Million Heroin Seized

Dope Ring Hit; Envoy Arrested

NEW YORK (AP)—An international dope smuggling ring has been smashed with the arrest of a Guatemalan diplomat and three other men and the seizure of $4 million worth of pure heroin, officials say.

Narcotics could have brought in $20 million on the illicit retail market.

Officials said it was the largest seizure of narcotics ever known to the U.S. government.

Guatemala's ambassador to Belgium and the Netherlands, Mauricio Rosal, 47, and the others were held in $1 million total bail Monday after their arrest in Manhattan.

Federal agents said they had three black valises containing about 110 pounds of heroin, and had about $70,000 in cash, apparently a partial payment for the dope.

Rosal, a dapper, balding man, was indignant at the arrest and claimed diplomatic immunity. But officials said he was not accredited to this country and did not enjoy immunity from arrest here.

Arrested with Rosal were Etienne Tarditi, 56, a Paris businessman; Charles Bourbonnais, 39, of New York City, a purser on the Paris-New York run of Trans World Airways; and Nick Calamaras, 47, of New York City, a longshoreman.

Mr. K Again Plans To Meet Macmillan

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev arranged to meet today for a second time with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to discuss the East-West deadlock.

The British leader, who met Sunday with President Eisenhower in Washington, set up a return date with Khrushchev for this afternoon after attending a morning session of the United Nations General Assembly.

The Soviet leader's terms included a demand that Eisenhower confess guilt for "treacherous acts" and "perfidy."

He said in a letter to the heads of five nations who tried to sponsor the meeting with Eisenhower:

"A clear admission is necessary that it (the increased tension) has been occasioned by the unprecedented treacherous acts of the United States government which chose the way of carrying out provocative aggressive acts against the Soviet Union."

8 Sever All Connections To Lumumba

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Some Western diplomats attached considerable significance today to public declarations by at least eight members of Parliament that they have broken once and for all with Patrice Lumumba.

The MPs issued a four-page statement Monday night accusing the Communist-backed deposed premier of ordering a reign of terror in Stanleyville, Lumumba's political strongpoint.

Signers of the statement said that all but 3 of the 39 senators and deputies from Oriental Province, which includes Stanleyville, have joined them in leaving the Lumumba camp.

Most political sources here felt the assertion was overdrawn. But at the same time they saw a crack in Lumumba's hitherto solid support in his home province.

One of the deputies who signed the statement was Victor Baeongandi, who accompanied Lumumba to the United States in July.

The group acknowledged that Lumumba still holds the loyalty of the Congolese army garrison of some 7,000 troops in Stanleyville. But they said Lumumba has been buying off the troops and that when his funds run out his support will collapse.

The governing commission of the Congo's strong man, Col. Joseph Mobutu, has decided in principle to establish a National Congolese bank. This would function somewhat like the U. S. Federal Reserve Bank.

Signers of the statement said that all but 3 of the 39 senators and deputies from Oriental Province, which includes Stanleyville, have joined them in leaving the Lumumba camp.

Most political sources here felt the assertion was overdrawn. But at the same time they saw a crack in Lumumba's hitherto solid support in his home province.

One of the deputies who signed the statement was Victor Baongandi, who accompanied Lumumba to the United States in July.

The group acknowledged that Lumumba still holds the loyalty of the Congolese army garrison of some 7,000 troops in Stanleyville. But they said Lumumba has been buying off the troops and that when his funds run out his support will collapse.

The governing commission of the Congo's strong man, Col. Joseph Mobutu, has decided in principle to establish a National Congolese bank. This would function somewhat like the U. S. Federal Reserve Bank.

UMW Studies Membership, Fat Treasury

CINCINNATI (AP)—The United Mine Workers Union, the labor organization that spawned the modern organized labor movement in America, meets today to survey its depleted membership and fat treasury.

It is the first UMW convention in many years in which John L. Lewis, now 80, is playing a side role.

Lewis, who quit as UMW chief last winter, to become president emeritus, delayed his arrival on the convention scene in a piece of timing that his favorite playwright, William Shakespeare, would approve.

The UMW will fete Lewis in a giant banquet Thursday night.

The nearly 2,000 convention delegates gathered for a 10-day meeting that was destined to become a discussion of the coal industry and its economics as they affect the coal miners.

The miners now are about 185,000 strong as compared to more than 800,000 a few decades ago.

Lewis, whose successor as UMW president is amiable Thomas Kennedy, 72, guided the UMW on a policy through the years of giving in to the machine, to mechanizing the coal mines. The price was high wages and accompanying benefits to the constantly dwindling ranks of the miners.

Kennedy, an advocate of more orthodox economic thinking by labor union standards, wants unlimited unemployment compensation benefits for work-idled union members, plus a wide gamut of government aid plans.

The UMW with a narrowing membership, today counts its wealth in a treasury of over $100 million, with ownership of banks and a big stake in railroads and other blue chip enterprises.

A feature of the convention will be how Lewis, via Kennedy, holds the many union political upstarts in line.

Many UMW groups have complaints. The UMW's catch-all District 50 has a number of members who challenged holding this convention on grounds that some delegates have not been democratically chosen.

Jaycee Board Considers Plan To Sponsor Operas

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Monday night voted to have a committee investigate a proposal by a Beaver man to present three operas here during the winter as a civic project.

He said the action is being taken to further "fine arts" in the tri-state area. The proposal calls for the use of known singers as the leads, with the chorus to be composed of local talent. Ed Adkins was appointed chairman of the investigating committee.

Council Votes Site Purchase For Structure

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to two ordinances clearing the way for the city to acquire a site and erect a centralized building for storage of equipment, material and supplies and a shop for maintenance of rolling stock.

The legislation authorizes Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver to pay $7,000 for two tracts of property fronting on E. 2nd St., both owned by the estate of the late Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans.

One tract is across Cherry Alley to the east from the city-owned ground at Washington and E. 2nd Sts., former site of the 2nd St. playground. Fronting on 2nd St. and with Cherry Alley as its west boundary, it is 130 feet deep.

Along with the former playlot tract, the land immediately to the east would be the site for the new municipal garage and storage building. The other tract, designed for outdoor storage and parking, fronts on 2nd St. and extends 130 feet north along Union St.

To finance the land purchase and preparing the site, Council authorized an $8,000 note issue. The one-year notes will be refunded via a bond issue that will be retired in eight years.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren is scheduled to prepare plans for the new building. At present, storage of city equipment and supplies is scattered among several sites, including the street department barn on Lisbon St., buildings at the former traction company carbarn in East End and the landfill dump in St. Clair Township.

After enactment of the legislation, Councilman Robert Laughlin pointed out the big bell which formerly hung in a tower in the old City Hall on W. 3rd St. now is being kept on part of the playlot site where the city expects to build the garage. He asked where it should be moved.

Council approved a motion from Councilman Donald Hancock asking the director to store the bell.

In other business, Council received a petition asking installation of a sanitary sewer on sections of N. Surrey Rd. and S. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park. The petition, carrying 42 signatures, was certified to the engineer for certification of the front footage involved.

Councilman John Kelly reported the street committee has made several investigations at the home of Mrs. Russell McCullough, 622 Bradshaw Ave., who complained that water was invading her basement. In the committee's opinion, the city is not responsible, he reported.

The meeting opened with invocation by Charles N. Edwards, president.

West Virginia Legislature

Key Committees Confer

CHARLESTON (AP)—Key committees of both houses met today to consider Republican administration proposals to this special session of the legislature, or possible Democratic alternatives.

The committees were concerned mainly with putting into effect in West Virginia new program recently enacted by Congress. It provides federal grants to states, on a matching basis, for medical aid to persons 65 and older who are not on public assistance rolls.

The House Finance and Judiciary Committees held a joint morning meeting with officials of the Department of Public Assistance, which would administer the medical program. Senate Finance also met in advance of today's afternoon meetings of the two houses.

The special session convened Monday at Gov. Underwood's call. He appeared before a joint meeting of Senate and House to ask them to provide $3.51 million for use in the remaining nine months of the current fiscal year in these ways:

For the medical care program, almost $2.1 million; for additional conservation projects under the State Temporary Economic Program, $1 million, and for addition of 78 troopers to bring the State Police to its legal ceiling of 357 men, $442,000.

Underwood proposed tax measures to raise $2.25 million of the cost and suggested places in the current budget where the remaining $1.26 million could be obtained without further taxes.

The tax bills he recommended were an increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax, at the same time repealing that tax from food purchased for home consumption, and an increase from 5 to 6½ per cent in the tax on parimutuel betting at horse race tracks.

Underwood estimated the revenue increases for the rest of fiscal 1960-61 would be $1.35 million from the consumers' sales tax measure and $900,000 from the pari-mutuel tax boost.

The State Police expansion seemed the least likely to succeed of the Underwood proposals, judging from the comments of Democratic leaders. Many of them have for some time been critical of Underwood's State Police superintendent, Col. Hazen Fair.

House Majority Leader Thomas E. Myles, D-Fayette, said the Republican governor's proposals for medical care and unemployment relief deserved serious consideration, but added as to the State Police:

"I am violently opposed to any additional appropriation for the department so long as it is administered by Hazen Fair."

Senate President Ralph J. Bean, D-Hardy, said he was not agreeable to expanding the department "until I am satisfied we have a qualified, experienced and competent superintendent."

And House Speaker Harry R. Pauley, D-McDowell, commented in a speech to the delegates that while the State Police had high standards for men in the ranks, they were "not always followed in the selection of a director."

The $2,092,000 in state funds which Underwood wants to put into the new medical care program over the next nine months would result in a total program of $7,661,000. The federal government will match the state appropriation on a 72.7-27.3 basis.

Under the administration bills introduced yesterday, persons 65 and older who are not on public assistance rolls and whose income does not exceed $1,500 a year would be eligible for benefits. Department of Public Assistance statistics show the number eligible in the state would be about 102,500.

Benefits would include up to 30 days a year of hospitalization for acute illnesses.

Although Underwood made specific proposals for providing the financing at this session, some Democratic thinking was along another line.

The idea getting some consideration was simply to authorize the DPA director to use whatever funds are necessary from his current budget to get the program under way. Then the 60-day regular session which begins next January could reimburse the department with a deficiency appropriation.

Barron Says He'd Back Law Against Whisky Sale Over Bar

By The Associated Press

W. W. Barron has committed himself to the strict enforcement of the law against the sale of liquor over the bar if he is elected governor.

"I'd enforce the law," he said Monday night. "If that means closing them up, that's what I'd do."

He put part of the blame for the present situation on politics in the State Police.

"They (the troopers)," he said, "hesitate to carry out law enforcement. They don't know if they're doing the right thing or the wrong thing. . .I think that if the governor would fire Supt. Hazen Fair, it would bring up the morale of the State Police and they would do their job."

At about the same time, the Republican running against Barron for governor, Harold E. Neely, was telling an audience at Parkersburg that he planned to "restore our state's dignity and true image throughout the world."

He said, "We must remain free to indulge in social and economic enterprise without case-iron bonds to a strong central government that removes from us every trace of individuality, every strain of pride. . .

"And, certainly, one thing we don't need in West Virginia is a return of the old Marland machine of self-serving politicians under the leadership of Marland's former liquor commissioner, now my opponent."

Neely called the Democrats' image of West Virginia "a sorry, sickening one . . . They let our President and our governor work endlessly to help the state, and then they pull the rug out from under our state's helpless and needy people."

Appearing on the same program, Gov. Underwood plumped for the reduction in the consumers' sales tax he has asked the legislature for. He said the merchants of Wood County were losing $9 million a year through their customers going across the Ohio River, because the tax there now is lower.

Underwood's opponent for the U. S. Senate, Sen. Jennings Randolph, criticized the Republican national administration for "start-and-stop" financing of the interstate highway program.

He said the 40,000-mile program has been off schedule since it became the responsibility of the Eisenhower-Nixon administration.

Council Votes Site Purchase For Structure

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to two ordinances clearing the way for the city to acquire a site and erect a centralized building for storage of equipment, material and supplies and a shop for maintenance of rolling stock.

The legislation authorizes Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver to pay $7,000 for two tracts of property fronting on E. 2nd St., both owned by the estate of the late Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans.

One tract is across Cherry Alley to the east from the city-owned ground at Washington and E. 2nd Sts., former site of the 2nd St. playground. Fronting on 2nd St. and with Cherry Alley as its west boundary, it is 130 feet deep.

Along with the former playlot tract, the land immediately to the east would be the site for the new municipal garage and storage building. The other tract, designed for outdoor storage and parking, fronts on 2nd St. and extends 130 feet north along Union St.

To finance the land purchase and preparing the site, Council authorized an $8,000 note issue. The one-year notes will be refunded via a bond issue that will be retired in eight years.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren is scheduled to prepare plans for the new building. At present, storage of city equipment and supplies is scattered among several sites, including the street department barn on Lisbon St., buildings at the former traction company carbarn in East End and the landfill dump in St. Clair Township.

After enactment of the legislation, Councilman Robert Laughlin pointed out the big bell which formerly hung in a tower in the old City Hall on W. 3rd St. now is being kept on part of the playlot site where the city expects to build the garage. He asked where it should be moved.

Council approved a motion from Councilman Donald Hancock asking the director to store the bell.

In other business, Council received a petition asking installation of a sanitary sewer on sections of N. Surrey Rd. and S. Surrey Rd., Fisher Park. The petition, carrying 42 signatures, was certified to the engineer for certification of the front footage involved.

Councilman John Kelly reported the street committee has made several investigations at the home of Mrs. Russell McCullough, 622 Bradshaw Ave., who complained that water was invading her basement. In the committee's opinion, the city is not responsible, he reported.

The meeting opened with invocation by Charles N. Edwards, president.

CHARLESTON (AP)—Key committees of both houses met today to consider Republican administration proposals to this special session of the legislature, or possible Democratic alternatives.

The committees were concerned mainly with putting into effect in West Virginia new program recently enacted by Congress. It provides federal grants to states, on a matching basis, for medical aid to persons 65 and elder who are not on public assistance rolls.

The House Finance and Judiciary Committees held a joint morning meeting with officials of the Department of Public Assistance, which would administer the medical program. Senate Finance also met in advance of today's afternoon meetings of the two houses.

The special session convened Monday at Gov. Underwood's call. He appeared before a joint meeting of Senate and House to ask them to provide $3.51 million for use in the remaining nine months of the current fiscal year in these ways:

For the medical care program, almost $2.1 million; for additional conservation projects under the State Temporary Economic Program, $1 million, and for addition of 78 troopers to bring the State Police to its legal ceiling of 257 men, $442,000.

Underwood proposed tax measures to raise $2.25 million of the cost and suggested places in the current budget where the remaining $1.26 million could be obtained without further taxes.

The tax bills he recommended were an increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax, at the same time repealing that tax from food purchased for home consumption, and an increase from 5 to 6½ per cent in the tax on parimutuel betting at horse race tracks.

Underwood estimated the revenue increases for the rest of fiscal 1960-61 would be $1.35 million from the consumers' sales tax measure and $900,000 from the pari-mutuel tax boost.

The State Police expansion seemed the least likely to succeed of the Underwood proposals, judging from the comments of Democratic leaders. Many of them have for some time been critical of Underwood's State Police superintendent, Col. Hazen Fair.

House Majority Leader Thomas E. Myles, D-Fayette, said the Republican governor's proposals for medical care and unemployment relief deserved serious consideration, but added as to the State Police:

"I am violently opposed to any additional appropriation for the department so long as it is administered by Hazen Fair."

And House Speaker Harry R. Pauley, D-McDowell, commented in a speech to the delegates that while the State Police had high standards for men in the ranks, they were "not always followed in the selection of a director."

The $2,092,000 in state funds which Underwood wants to put into the new medical care program over the next nine months would result in a total program of $7,661,000. The federal government will match the state appropriation on a 72.7-27.3 basis.

Under the administration bills introduced yesterday, persons 65 and older who are not on public assistance rolls and whose income does not exceed $1,500 a year would be eligible for benefits. Department of Public Assistance statistics show the number eligible in the state would be about 102,500.

Benefits would include up to 30 days a year of hospitalization for acute illnesses.

Although Underwood made specific proposals for providing the financing at this session, some Democratic thinking was along another line.

The idea getting some consideration was simply to authorize the DPA director to use whatever funds are necessary from his current budget to get the program under way. Then the 60-day regular session which begins next January could reimburse the department with a deficiency appropriation.

United Nations Gets The H & S

Nikita Khrushchev's idea of oratory is a rocket-burst of tirade and invective, wholly out of place in the United Nations.

Khrushchev knows this. He is no fool. He is trying to bring about a certain effect with his table-thumping orations.

It is not part of his tactics to strive for restraint shown by other General Assembly speakers, most notable President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan. In the rough-and-tumble school of Communist survival, from which Premier Khrushchev was graduated with the highest honor anyone can attain—a long life—there is no credit for restraint. The basic tactic is to go for the jugular.

The jugular Khrushchev is going for in the present instance is Dag Hammarskjold, secretary-general of the United Nations.

It must be understood, however, that Khrushchev is not interested in Hammarskjold as an individual. The purpose of using him as the primary target is to let the blood out of the United Nations.

When the United Nations intervened successfully in the Republic of Congo to keep the Communist agents from moving into control of the government, it asked for the Hammer and Sickle in retaliation—the H & S treatment.

THE FIRST U.N. secretary-general got the H & S treatment, too. Trygve Lie's lease on diplomatic life was withdrawn when he defied the Communist line on Korea.

There is only one way to earn the cooperation of the Communist bloc in the United Nations. That is to do nothing to incur the bloc's resentment.

There is no Golden Mean in the Communist Conspiracy. There is no Golden Rule for Communists. There are no compromises, no philosophy of give-and-take, no shrugging off an occasional defeat with "You can't win 'em all."

This is what Premier Khrushchev has been making plain above all else in the United Nations. He is doing it deliberately. He thinks the time is ripe to make his move. The Gromykos and Vishinskys, the Molotovs and the Menshikovs were all right in their way and in their day. But in 1960 it's Khrushchev, himself, who is telling the world what the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic stands for.

The question is why he has picked this time and this way to do it.

He has made it clear what kind of a United Nations he wants—an organization subservient to the Communist Conspiracy.

He has made it clear there is no place in his kind of an organization for neutrals—that every government either would take its orders from the Communists or join the governments that the Communists say they will "bury."

Khrushchev has set up Secretary-General Hammarskjold as the horrible example of what will happen to anyone whose sense of duty causes him to thwart Communist designs.

IF HIS PURPOSE was to scare people who formerly had been no more than disturbed by the Communist Conspiracy, Khrushchev has been a whopping success.

If his intent was to show the 20th century world there is no middle ground between the political absolutists who dictate to Russians and Chinese and the people who believe governments should be established and maintained only by the consent of the governed, the exhibition by Khrushchev has been a whopping success.

This is apparently what the No. 1 Russian set out to do and it's a good guess that he did it because it is what the No. 1 Chinese, Mao Tse-tung wants him to do. It is exactly what Mao has been preaching: That there is no middle ground.

The time may not be far distant when Mao will emerge as Khrushchev's complete master.

The 20th century world still hasn't caught up to the 20th century fact that upward of two billion Chinese are the backbone of the Communist Conspiracy, instead of a few more than 200 million Russians.

Think Of Ability, Not Disability

Sixty-two applicants with physical impairments are on file at the local office of the Ohio Employment Service.

They are deserving of consideration every day of the year, but their needs are brought into sharper focus by National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week which will continue through Oct. 8.

The 62 aren't begging for favors. All they're asking is an opportunity to prove that they can do a job. Each has been rated at the employment office as to what tasks they can perform in an efficient manner.

Gov. DiSalle, in proclaiming the week, called upon all citizens, employers, labor leaders, spiritual leaders, officials of all branches and subdivisions of government to participate in the observance and to cooperate with the continuous activities of the governor's committee on employment of the handicapped.

If you are an employe and an opening exists, give the handicapped equal consideration along with those more fortunate in a physical sense. The non-handicapped out of work need jobs just as well as the handicapped. The latter realize this. All they ask is that their ability not their disability be recognized.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

If the U.N. ever abolishes its secretary general for a three-man group — one from Soviet, one from free world and one neutral — we can imagine this situation:

1. Trouble breaks out threatening world peace. U.N. calls meeting to dispatch three-man secretariat, but finds they are out somewhere having a personal fight. They are calmed down and asked to go to scene of trouble. They reply, "But have we got to travel together?"

2. They reach scene. Personal disputes get more serious than disputes they are sent to handle.

3. They wire U.N. for instructions and get simple order, "Who's threatening peace, you or the nations involved?"

4. Soviet member of group takes neutral member a prisoner. Free world member implores both to behave.

5. Neutral member of secretariat breaks out and captures Soviet member.

Free world member wires U.N., "Where am I, and if so, please confirm?"

6. Khrushchev cables U.N., "I oppose your proposing peace among members of secretariat."

U.N. replies, "We have made no proposition yet." Mr. K replies, "What difference does that make. I always plan my oppositions in advance."

7. There is report free world member and neutral member have captured Soviet member and locked him up in radio station. U.N. asks, "Is this true?"

Free world and neutral members wire, "How would we know? We are as confused as you."

8. Khrushchev shows up at U.N. and demands three-man secretariat be fired and replaced by a dozen secretary generals picked out of a hat at a bingo game.

9. This is done. The dozen secretaries start aresting one another.

10. Soviet premier demands that these men be bounced and replaced by an all-Russian secretariat chosen for voice volume.

IN PRESENT COLD, police-lineup format presented by TV debate, presidential candidates should be preceded by announcement, "The men ate a hearty breakfast and said they would walk in unassisted." Don't Go Away Without It!

Fast Legal Action Under New Law

By Victor Riesel

Any union member who has to pick himself and his teeth off a bloody meeting hall floor because he talked up against the leadership should be fascinated by an FBI report just turned in. It is on the desk of Malcolm Wilkey, U.S. assistant sttorney general, chief of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department.

Victor Riesel

It all began in the corridor of the behemoth convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J., on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 21.

A fellow by the name of Don Rarick, leader of a small opposition group inside the big United Steel Workers Union, was hit by "several" haymakers.

Rarick, who has run against the popular David McDonald for the union presidency, protested to the Labor Department.

Others in Rarick's opposition movement had been roughed up previously. But there isn't the slightest evidence that Dave McDonald even knew of the fights.

THERE WERE THOUSANDS of delegates in the hall.

Most of them booed the 12 men who stood up and voted against a statement of confidence in the silver-haired national union chief.

Convention fist fights are as numerous as Yankee pennants and make no history.

What does go down on the dockets as vital is the fact that the Labor Department moved swiftly under the Landrum-Griffin Act, the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure law, now just one year old.

It made no difference whether there were only 12 out of 3,500 delegates who believed themselves wronged.

When Rarick protested, Under Secretary of Labor James T. O'Connell dispatched requests for an investigation to the Justice Department.

Word went to Malcolm Wilkey at the criminal division; then on to the investigatory arm, J. Edgar Hoover's FBI.

Bureau agents had one assignment. They were to get the facts so the attorneys general could determine whether there had been a violation of the civil and labor rights guaranteed rank-and-filers under the rights Section 610 on the Landrum-Griffin law.

BY THURSDAY, Sept. 22, special agents were in the field. They contacted Atlantic City police. They interviewed Rarick and a colleague in his McKeepsort, Pa., home. They sought one or two others involved in the fights.

This always is ticklish work for the bureau. Rarely has it investigated union affairs. And then only on matters involving laws about to be tested by labor men in the Supreme Court.

Actually the point here is: Had Rarick been beaten on convention grounds or had he been assaulted outside or "near" the parley. It makes a difference in determining whether or not a man has been deprived of his right "inside" a union and in one of its policy making meetings.

It took the fast moving FBI just three days to gather its facts. By Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, a report was put on the desk on the criminal division's chief.

Now it's up to Malcolm Wilkey. The report is a precedent.

NONE OF THIS is apt to shake McDonald's influence or leadership. But there are other unions—scores of locals—in and out of the AFL-CIO—whose meetings are danger spots for the opposition.

Now, if a man has the guts to stand up and take a whack on the head, he knows there are federal forces which will move to protect him.

Same Image, Different Form

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Four years ago Nikita Khrushchev—by denouncing Stalin — tried to demolish the terroristic image of Russia which the old man had created through such moves as the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

Ever since, a bit at a time as failures pile up against him, Khrushchev had been creating the same image in a different form. While Stalin used force, Khrushchev is threatening to use it.

While Khrushchev's goals are the same as Stalin's — the expansion of communism and its influence — Stalin had done two things detrimental to both:

1. He had frightened the West into creating the one thing he wanted least—a military alliance in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

2. He had made Russia such a terror symbol that the rest of the world could expect only naked Russian force at every turn.

Since both Russia and the United States were developing long-range nuclear weapons outright Russian military conquest had to be laid aside as too risky.

A new tactic was needed. Khrushchev tried soft talk. If it worked it might persuade the West NATO was no longer needed. Meanwhile, Russia could seek expansion through various pressures short of shooting.

Khrushchev's abandonment of Stalin's crude tactics was never complete and never real. In 1956, the year he downgraded Stalin, he sent Russian troops into satellite Hungary to crush the rebellion bloodily.

But Khrushchev went on with his air of jolly goodfellowship. He wanted a summit meeting, part of an obvious desire to make NATO seem unnecessary and talk the West into a feeling of security.

To get the West to agree to a summit conference Khrushchev, like Stalin, put the squeeze on West Berlin. But Khrushchev did it a little differently.

Stalin tried to grab it outright with a blockade in 1948 before there were any intercontinental ballistic missiles. Khrushchev Merely threatened to shut off the city.

He kept up the pressure of threats until President Eisenhower agreed to the meeting. As time passed, and the Berlin crisis did too, the West began to feel more self-confident.

Weeks before the summit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other Western statesmen began making it clear Khrushchev would get no concessions at the summit.

The subsequent shooting down over Russia of the American U2 spy plane—just before the summit—gave Khrushchev a handy excuse for wrecking what, for his purposes, was already wrecked.

From that moment Khrushchev's tactics have reverted more and more toward those of Stalin, although with a difference. Where Stalin created terror by force, Khrushchev has sought to create terror by intimidation.

He has boasted of his missile strength, threatened to use it. He began putting the squeeze on Berlin again just before coming to the United Nations in September, looking for concessions.

With the world anxious for disarmament and fearful of war, he threatened there'd be no disarmament unless the United Nations yielded to his demands to change the world organization in such a way that it would be helpless to stop any future Russian moves against anyone anywhere.

Seeing he was making no progress, he got more barefaced. He frankly said unless the United Nations is changed to suit him, Russia would ignore any U.N. peacemaking efforts in the future.

So far he has been hit with one failure after another in trying to threaten his way into what he wants at the United Nations. As the failures mount, he gets more careless with his threats.

Nominal Neutrals

By David Lawrence

Too Many Play One Side Against The Other

"Neutrals" and "neutralists" were the words used in the press dispatches and headlines the other day to describe the chiefs of five governments who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations Assembly calling for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

David Lawrence

But they really aren't neutrals. Can there justifiably be a position of neutrality between a government of barbarism and a government of freedom and humaneness?

Is any government entitled to call itself neutral when it just plays one side against the other and, in some instances, engages in an international game of extortion and blackmail?

The heads of the governments of Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Ghana and the United Arab Republic are impartial only in the sense that they have received or are demanding aid from both the Soviet Union and the West.

As for India, which is the fifth nation in the group, it has in the cabinet of the premier an influential minister of distinctly communistic sympathies who steers Mr. Nehru into moves such as he made the other day.

THE WHOLE GROUP of five conferred at length with the Soviet premier and then issued the resolution calling for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

One wonders why they didn't confer also with the American secretary of state. A mediating commission of true neutrality usually canvasses both sides before making any such recommendations.

There is every evidence that the Soviet premier was using the group of five chiefs of state for his own propaganda purposes.

The resolution was hardly a day old when Khrushchev announced his conditions for the meeting — the demand for an apology from President Eisenhower for the U-2 flights.

This indicates clearly that the Soviet premier wasn't really serious in his acquiescence to the so-called neutralist proposal and wanted it issued only for the purpose of knocking it down publicly.

The so-called neutralist group is constantly pressing for more money or economic aid from the United States. The big argument usually made is that if America doesn't furnish the money, they will have to turn to Moscow for it.

Thus Premier Nasser of Egypt, while negotiating for American help for the Aswan Dam, was secretly negotiating for arms and ammunition from the Communist - bloc states.

But there are Americans in important political positions who have publicly denounced him for it — as, for instance, Sen. Fulbright, D.-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

UNFORTUNATELY, for political reasons in which party is sometime put above the nation's interest, there are some speakers who never miss a chance to blame the Suez crisis of 1956 on the United States just because this country didn't help on the Aswan Dam.

If America is unashamedly to buy good will, then the sooner the American people face up to the true meaning of such blackmail and extortion, the more quickly they will learn to protect themselves against the pitfalls that appeasement has brought in the past.

Already Adlai Stevenson, who is expected to be secretary of state if Mr. Kennedy is elected president, is demanding, in effect, that President Eisenhower now back down and meet with Mr. Khrushchev.

Mr. Stevenson said in a speech at Salt Lake City last Saturday:

"President Eisenhower has often said he would do anything to advance peace. But if he decides not to see Mr. Khrushchev, I hope he will have an explanation that will satisfy the neutrals."

Why must the United States forget the insults to its president and also ignore the Soviet refusal even to permit a U.N. investigation of the circumstances whereby an American airplane is shot down over the high seas and two survivors of the crew are still held prisoner in the Soviet Union?

Why are the so-called neutrals to be satisfied only by the sacrifice of America's self-respect?

JUST 24 HOURS before President Sukarno of Indonesia was introducing the so - called neutralist resolution in the United Nations, a Reuters News Service dispatch from Indonesia was coming over the wires as follows:

"An Indonesian military commander announced today that only newspapers supporting the government's political philosophy will be allowed to continue publication in Kakarta (the capital).

"The spokesman for the Kakarta garrison command said all newspapers in the future would have to obtain licenses and would have to agree to following the "guiding line' laid down by the government.

"The government has confiscated eight printing plants in Kakarta, Bandung, Semarang, Surabaya and Macassar in the past week, causing the closure of 11 daily newspapers."

Yet it is the dictator of this kind of despotic and totalitarian government who stalks around in the United Nations Assembly as one of the sacrosanct neutrals in the so-called free world!

Dulles Outwitted Reds

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

Was John Foster Dulles right after all in using Egypt's Aswan High Dam as a so-called "Gambit" in the cold war?

That's what some Western observers—and Egyptians as well—are beginning to ask today.

Nine months have elapsed since President Gamal Abdel Nasser set off the first earth-moving dynamite blast at the dam site 450 miles south of Cairo—and so far the Soviets are still discussing "plans and specifications."

The delay in getting the huge hydroelectric and irrigation project under way has become one of the hottest topics of diplomatic gossip—and one of the biggest question marks—in the gossip-ridden Middle East.

Egypt, Lebanon and India have all found that day-to-day trade with the Soviet bloc can be loaded with unsuspected booby traps.

It has now become a Cairo guessing game whether Moscow is purposely delaying construction on Nasser's $1.3 billion "dream project"—or whether the Soviets have overreached themselves in the international economic contest with the West and are playing for time.

Two years after the United States, Britain and the World Bank suddenly withdrew their combined loan offers of some $300 million to help build the Aswan High Dam, Moscow signed a construction agreement with Nasser, promising aid worth 400 million rubles (nearly $100 million).

LAST JANUARY, during the inauguration ceremonies, the Soviets agreed to help build the second stage as well. A second agreement, recently signed in Moscow, pledges another 900 million rubles worth (about $250 million) of Soviet help for the final construction stages including electrification and irrigation projects.

But Soviet equipment which has reached Egypt just sits idly at Aswan and few Soviet engineers and technicians are in evidence. Experts now agree that the Soviets will have to set a breakneck pace to complete the whole job by the 1967 target date.

According to one authorized Dulles biography and numerous Washington press reports, the late U.S. secretary of state always was doubtful that the Soviets would actually build the giant Aswan Dam. Or, if they did, would run into great difficulty in completing the project.

Dulles never publicly acknowleged these Washington reports before he died—nor did he deny them.

With industrial loans and projects pledged and promised halfway around the globe, the Soviets are believed to be encountering difficulty in finding:

1. Enough qualified experts to carry the foreign-aid load, and

2. Enough equipment and machinery for expert while continuing to build their own home-front economy.

NOT LONG AGO, members of a private U.S. trade mission reported they found businessmen and industrialists in Egypt and Syria thoroughly disenchanted with machinery and equipment obtained in barter deals from the Communist bloc.

These reports coincided with stringent action by the Nasser government to prevent the Communist bloc from buying Egyptian cotton in barter deals, then dumping it in western Europe for dollars and other hard currencies at prices below those quoted by the Egyptians.

Following a 6½-week tour throughout the United Arab Republic, Charles J. Kelly, director of a leading San Faancisco import-export firm, told of seeing one sample of Russian industrial machinery which had developed trouble two months after it was installed.

Khrushchev has set up Secretary-General Hammarskjold as the horrible example of what will happen to anyone whose sense of duty causes him to thwart Communist designs.

IF HIS PURPOSE was to scare people who formerly had been no more than disturbed by the Communist Conspiracy, Khrushchev has been a whopping success.

If his intent was to show the 20th century world there is no middle ground between the political absolutists who dictate to Russians and Chinese and the people who believe governments should be established and maintained only by the consent of the governed, the exhibition by Khrushchev has been a whopping success.

This is apparently what the No. 1 Russian set out to do and it's a good guess that he did it because it is what the No. 1 Chinese, Mao Tse-tung wants him to do. It is exactly what Mao has been preaching: That there is no middle ground.

The time may not be far distant when Mao will emerge as Khrushchev's complete master.

The 20th century world still hasn't caught up to the 20th century fact that upward of two billion Chinese are the backbone of the Communist Conspiracy, instead of a few more than 200 million Russians.

Think Of Ability, Not Disability

Sixty-two applicants with physical impairments are on file at the local office of the Ohio Employment Service.

They are deserving of consideration every day of the year, but their needs are brought into sharper focus by National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week which will continue through Oct. 8.

The 62 aren't begging for favors. All they're asking is an opportunity to prove that they can do a job. Each has been rated at the employment office as to what tasks they can perform in an efficient manner.

Gov. DiSalle, in proclaiming the week, called upon all citizens, employers, labor leaders, spiritual leaders, officials of all branches and subdivisions of government to participate in the observance and to cooperate with the continuous activities of the governor's committee on employment of the handicapped.

If you are an employe and an opening exists, give the handicapped equal consideration along with those more fortunate in a physical sense. The non-handicapped out of work need jobs just as well as the handicapped. The latter realize this. All they ask is that their ability not their disability be recognized.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

If the U.N. ever abolishes its secretary general for a three-man group — one from Soviet, one from free world and one neutral — we can imagine this situation:

1. Trouble breaks out threatening world peace. U.N. calls meeting to dispatch three-man secretariat, but finds they are out somewhere having a personal fight. They are calmed down and asked to go to scene of trouble. They reply, "But have we got to travel together?"

2. They reach scene. Personal disputes get more serious than disputes they are sent to handle.

3. They wire U.N. for instructions and get simple order, "Who's threatening peace, you or the nations involved?"

4. Soviet member of group takes neutral member a prisoner. Free world member implores both to behave.

5. Neutral member of secretariat breaks out and captures Soviet member.

Free world member wires U.N., "Where am I, and if so, please confirm?"

6. Khrushchev cables U.N., "I oppose your proposing peace among members of secretariat."

U.N. replies, "We have made no proposition yet." Mr. K replies, "What difference does that make. I always plan my oppositions in advance."

7. There is report free world member and neutral member have captured Soviet member and locked him up in radio station. U.N. asks, "Is this true?"

Free world and neutral members wire, "How would we know? We are as confused as you."

8. Khrushchev shows up at U.N. and demands three-man secretariat be fired and replaced by a dozen secretary generals picked out of a hat at a bingo game.

9. This is done. The dozen secretaries start arresting one another.

10. Soviet premier demands that these men be bounced and replaced by an all-Russian secretariat chosen for voice volume.

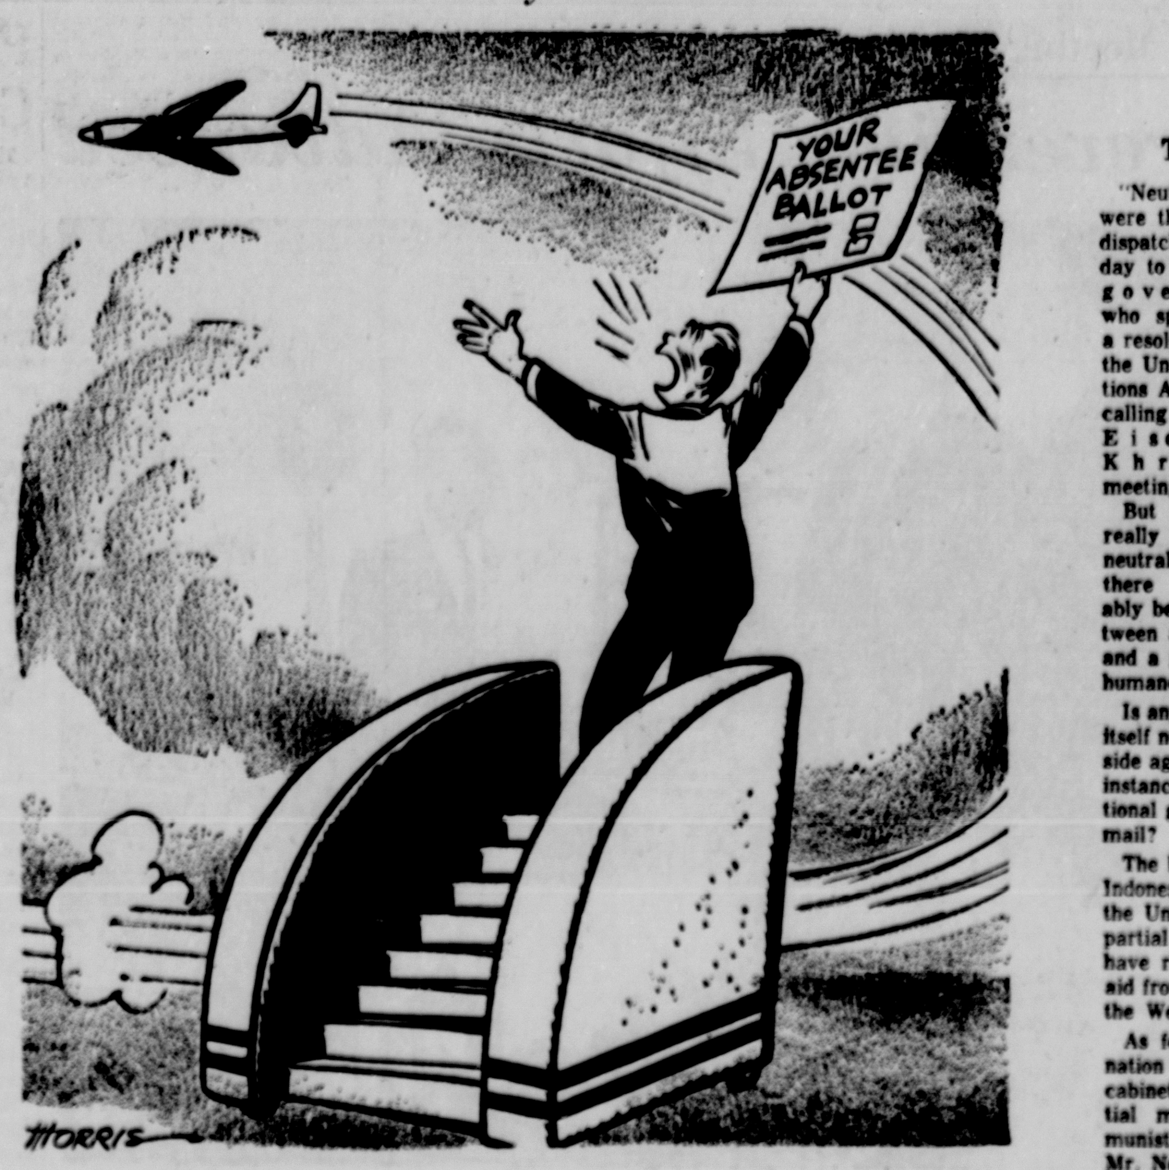
Don't Go Away Without It!



Fast Legal Action Under New Law

By Victor Riesel

Any union member who has to pick himself and his teeth off a bloody meeting hall floor because he talked up against the leadership should be fascinated by an FBI report just turned in. It is on the desk of Malcolm Wilkey, U.S. assistant attorney general, chief of the Criminal Division of the Justice Department.

Victor Riesel

It all began in the corridor of the behemoth convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J., on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 21.

A fellow by the name of Don Rarick, leader of a small opposition group inside the big United Steel Workers Union, was hit by "several" haymakers.

He went down. His coat went off. His assailants took off.

Rarick, who has run against the popular David McDonald for the union presidency, protested to the Labor Department.

Others in Rarick's opposition movement had been roughed up previously. But there isn't the slightest evidence that Dave McDonald even knew of the fights.

THERE WERE THOUSANDS of delegates in the hall.

Most of them booed the 12 men who stood up and voted against a statement of confidence in the silver-haired national union chief.

Convention fist fights are as numerous as Yankee pennants and make no history.

What does go down on the dockets as vital is the fact that the Labor Department moved swiftly under the Landrum-Griffin Act, the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure law, now just one year old.

It made no difference whether there were only 12 out of 3,500 delegates who believed themselves wronged.

When Rarick protested, Under Secretary of Labor James T. O'Connell dispatched requests for an investigation to the Justice Department.

Word went to Malcolm Wilkey at the criminal division; then on to the investigatory arm, J. Edgar Hoover's FBI.

Bureau agents had one assignment. They were to get the facts so the attorneys general could determine whether there had been a violation of the civil and labor rights guaranteed rank-and-filers under the rights Section 610 on the Landrum-Griffin law.

BY THURSDAY, Sept. 22, special agents were in the field. They contacted Atlantic City police. They interviewed Rarick and a colleague in his McKeesport, Pa., home. They sought one or two others involved in the fights.

This always is ticklish work for the bureau. Rarely has it investigated union affairs. And then only on matters involving laws about to be tested by labor men in the Supreme Court.

Actually the point here is: Had Rarick been beaten on convention grounds or had he been assaulted outside or "near" the parley. It makes a difference in determining whether or not a man has been deprived of his right "inside" a union and in one of its policy making meetings.

It took the fast moving FBI just three days to gather its facts. By Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, a report was put on the desk on the criminal division's chief.

Now it's up to Malcolm Wilkey. The report is a precedent.

NONE OF THIS is apt to shake McDonald's influence or leadership. But there are other unions—scores of locals—in and out of the AFL-CIO—whose meetings are danger spots for the opposition.

Now, if a man has the guts to stand up and take a whack on the head, he knows there are federal forces which will move to protect him.

Same Image, Different Form

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Four years ago Nikita Khrushchev—by denouncing Stalin — tried to demolish the terroristic image of Russia which the old man had created through such moves as the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

Ever since, a bit at a time as failures pile up against him, Khrushchev had been creating the same image in a different form. While Stalin used force, Khrushchev is threatening to use it.

While Khrushchev's goals are the same as Stalin's — the expansion of communism and its influence — Stalin had done two things detrimental to both:

1. He had frightened the West into creating the one thing he wanted least—a military alliance in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

2. He had made Russia such a terror symbol that the rest of the world could expect only naked Russian force at every turn.

Since both Russia and the United States were developing long-range nuclear weapons outright Russian military conquest had to be laid aside as too risky.

A new tactic was needed. Khrushchev tried soft talk. If it worked it might persuade the West NATO was no longer needed. Meanwhile, Russia could seek expansion through various pressures short of shooting.

Khrushchev's abandonment of Stalin's crude tactics was never complete and never real. In 1956, the year he downgraded Stalin, he sent Russian troops into satellite Hungary to crush the rebellion bloodily.

But Khrushchev went on with his air of jolly goodfellowship. He wanted a summit meeting, part of an obvious desire to make NATO seem unnecessary and talk the West into a feeling of security.

To get the West to agree to a summit conference Khrushchev, like Stalin, put the squeeze on West Berlin. But Khrushchev did it a little differently.

Stalin tried to grab it outright with a blockade in 1948 before there were any intercontinental ballistic missiles. Khrushchev Merely threatened to shut off the city.

He kept up the pressure of threats until President Eisenhower agreed to the meeting. As time passed, and the Berlin crisis did too, the West began to feel more self-confident.

Weeks before the summit, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other Western statesmen began making it clear Khrushchev would get no concessions at the summit.

The subsequent shooting down over Russia of the American U2 spy plane—just before the summit—gave Khrushchev a handy excuse for wrecking what, for his purposes, was already wrecked.

From that moment Khrushchev's tactics have reverted more and more toward those of Stalin, although with a difference. Where Stalin created terror by force, Khrushchev has sought to create terror by intimidation.

He has boasted of his missile strength, threatened to use it. He began putting the squeeze on Berlin again just before coming to the United Nations in September, looking for concessions.

With the world anxious for disarmament and fearful of war, he threatened there'd be no disarmament unless the United Nations yielded to his demands to change the world organization in such a way that it would be helpless to stop any future Russian moves against anyone anywhere.

Seeing he was making no progress, he got more barefaced. He frankly said unless the United Nations is changed to suit him, Russia would ignore any U.N. peace-making efforts in the future.

So far he has been hit with one failure after another in trying to threaten his way into what he wants at the United Nations. As the failures mount, he gets more careless with his threats.

Nominal Neutrals

By David Lawrence

Too Many Play One Side Against The Other

"Neutrals" and "neutralists" were the words used in the press dispatches and headlines the other day to describe the chiefs of five governments who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations Assembly calling for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

David Lawrence

But they really aren't neutrals. Can there justifiably be a position of neutrality between a government of barbarism and a government of freedom and humaneness?

Is any government entitled to call itself neutral when it just plays one side against the other and, in some instances, engages in an international game of extortion and blackmail?

The heads of the governments of Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Ghana and the United Arab Republic are impartial only in the sense that they have received or are demanding aid from both the Soviet Union and the West.

As for India, which is the fifth nation in the group, it has in the cabinet of the premier an influential minister of distinctly communistic sympathies who steers Mr. Nehru into moves such as he made the other day.

THE WHOLE GROUP of five conferred at length with the Soviet premier and then issued the resolution calling for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

One wonders why they didn't confer also with the American secretary of state. A mediating commission of true neutrality usually canvasses both sides before making any such recommendations.

There is every evidence that the Soviet premier was using the group of five chiefs of state for his own propaganda purposes.

The resolution was hardly a day old when Khrushchev announced his conditions for the meeting — the demand for an apology from President Eisenhower for the U-2 flights.

This indicates clearly that the Soviet premier wasn't really serious in his acquiescence to the so-called neutralist proposal and wanted it issued only for the purpose of knocking it down publicly.

The so-called neutralist group is constantly pressing for more money or economic aid from the United States. The big argument usually made is that if America doesn't furnish the money, they will have to turn to Moscow for it.

Thus Premier Nasser of Egypt, while negotiating for American help for the Aswan Dam, was secretly negotiating for arms and ammunition from the Communist - bloc states.

But there are Americans in important political positions who have publicly denounced him for it — as, for instance, Sen. Fulbright, D.-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

UNFORTUNATELY, for political reasons in which party is sometime put above the nation's interest, there are some speakers who never miss a chance to blame the Suez crisis of 1956 on the United States just because this country didn't help on the Aswan Dam.

If America is unashamedly to buy good will, then the sooner the American people face up to the true meaning of such blackmail and extortion, the more quickly they will learn to protect themselves against the pitfalls that appeasement has brought in the past.

Already Adlai Stevenson, who is expected to be secretary of state if Mr. Kennedy is elected president, is demanding, in effect, that President Eisenhower now back down and meet with Mr. Khrushchev.

Mr. Stevenson said in a speech at Salt Lake City last Saturday:

"President Eisenhower has often said he would do anything to advance peace. But if he decides not to see Mr. Khrushchev, I hope he will have an explanation that will satisfy the neutrals."

Why must the United States forget the insults to its president and also ignore the Soviet refusal even to permit a U.N. investigation of the circumstances whereby an American airplane is shot down over the high seas and two survivors of the crew are still held prisoner in the Soviet Union?

Why are the so-called neutrals to be satisfied only by the sacrifice of America's self-respect?

JUST 24 HOURS before President Sukarno of Indonesia was introducing the so - called neutralist resolution in the United Nations, a Reuters News Service dispatch from Indonesia was coming over the wires as follows:

"An Indonesian military commander announced today that only newspapers supporting the government's political philosophy will be allowed to continue publication in Kakarta (the capital).

"The spokesman for the Kakarta garrison command said all newspapers in the future would have to obtain licenses and would have to agree to following the "guiding line' laid down by the government.

"The government has confiscated eight printing plants in Kakarta, Bandung, Semarang, Surabaya and Macassar in the past week, causing the closure of 11 daily newspapers."

Yet it is the dictator of this kind of despotic and totalitarian government who stalks around in the United Nations Assembly as one of the sacrosanct neutrals in the so-called free world!

Dulles Outwitted Reds

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

Was John Foster Dulles right after all in using Egypt's Aswan High Dam as a so-called "Gambit" in the cold war?

That's what some Western observers—and Egyptians as well—are beginning to ask today.

Nine months have elapsed since President Gamal Abdel Nasser set off the first earth-moving dynamite blast at the dam site 430 miles south of Cairo—and so far the Soviets are still discussing "plans and specifications."

The delay in getting the huge hydroelectric and irrigation project under way has become one of the hottest topics of diplomatic gossip—and one of the biggest question marks—in the gossip-ridden Middle East.

Egypt, Lebanon and India have all found that day-to-day trade with the Soviet bloc can be loaded with unsuspected booby traps.

It has now become a Cairo guessing game whether Moscow is purposely delaying construction on Nasser's $1.3 billion "dream project"—or whether the Soviets have overreached themselves in the international economic contest with the West and are playing for time.

Two years after the United States, Britain and the World Bank suddenly withdrew their combined loan offers of some $300 million to help build the Aswan High Dam, Moscow signed a construction agreement with Nasser, promising aid worth 400 million rubles (nearly $100 million).

LAST JANUARY, during the inauguration ceremonies, the Soviets agreed to help build the second stage as well. A second agreement, recently signed in Moscow, pledges another 900 million rubles worth (about $250 million) of Soviet help for the final construction stages including electrification and irrigation projects.

But Soviet equipment which has reached Egypt just sits idly at Aswan and few Soviet engineers and technicians are in evidence. Experts now agree that the Soviets will have to set a breakneck pace to complete the whole job by the 1967 target date.

According to one authorized Dulles biography and numerous Washington press reports, the late U.S. secretary of state always was doubtful that the Soviets would actually build the giant Aswan Dam. Or, if they did, would run into great difficulty in completing the project.

Dulles never publicly acknowledged these Washington reports before he died—nor did he deny them.

With industrial loans and projects pledged and promised halfway around the globe, the Soviets are believed to be encountering difficulty in finding:

1. Enough qualified experts to carry the foreign-aid load, and

2. Enough equipment and machinery for export while continuing to build their own home-front economy.

NOT LONG AGO, members of a private U.S. trade mission reported they found businessmen and industrialists in Egypt and Syria thoroughly disenchanted with machinery and equipment obtained in barter deals from the Communist bloc.

These reports coincided with stringent action by the Nasser government to prevent the Communist bloc from buying Egyptian cotton in barter deals, then dumping it in western Europe for dollars and other hard currencies at prices below those quoted by the Egyptians.

Following a 6½-week tour throughout the United Arab Republic, Charles J. Kelly, director of a leading San Faancisco import-export firm, told of seeing one sample of Russian industrial machinery which had developed trouble two months after it was installed.

Hearing Begins For Akron Man In City Check Case

A lengthy preliminary hearing was under way this morning in Municipal Court for an Akron man charged with issuing a fraudulent check to an East Liverpool auto agency nearly three years ago.

Mario Pace, a former car dealer in Burgettstown, Pa., entered a not guilty plea to the affidavit alleging he issued the $1,792 check to Central Service of W. 7th St. on Dec. 12, 1957. The affidavit was signed by Basil Mangano, president.

Pace entered the innocent plea through his counsel, Atty. Ben H. Berman, after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff explained to the defendant he is charged with a felony and the court would determine only if a crime had been committed and if there was sufficient evidence to hold him to the Grand Jury.

Mangano was the only witness for the state, relating how he knew Pace, sold him some new cars and received the check in payment for one.

A district youth who fled police custody at East Palestine while being held on a forgery charge is expected to be returned from Eastern Pennsylvania, where he is hospitalized with injuries suffered in the wreck of a stolen car.

Fund Appeal Kicked Off In Midland Area

The United Fund campaign in the Midland area—with a goal of $37,973—was kicked off at a meeting of divisional chairmen and workers Monday night at Lincoln High School.

The residential solicitation will begin next Monday in Midland, Fairview-Smiths Ferry and Ohio View-Industry. Lists of volunteer workers are expected to be completed this week.

Solicitation of pledges from employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. will begin Wednesday, according to Fingle Bloom, chairman of the Combined Charities of Crucible.

He pointed out that money pledged by workers who do not reside in the Midland area will be sent to the fund organizations where they do live.

Each worker who gives will receive a United Fund sticker and lapel pin. Stickers should be displayed prominently so that those who give are not asked to give again during the residential solicitation, Bloom said.

Everyone will be asked to contribute his "fair share" during the drive, now scheduled to end Oct. 24. Solicitation will include industry, utilities, professional people, stores, taverns, clubs and other organizations.

A large thermometer sign on a lot on Midland Ave., between 6th and 7th Sts. will show progress as the campaign continues.

A report meeting for workers will be held Oct. 17, with a final report meeting Oct. 24.

A meeting of the Combined Charities Board of Crucible with supervisors and union grievance committeemen was scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 at the Midland Steelworkers Hall.

George Burrier, manager of the Midland Works and Beaver County United Fund campaign chairman, will address the group, along with James Mullen of East Liverpool, United Steelworkers staff representative.

Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, president of the Midland Area Charities, spoke to some 40 chairmen and workers.

"Every agency that benefits has been investigated as to its need and worthliness," he said.

"If you pity the unfortunate and if you want to be a part of major programs being worked out, you'll take a great pride in giving," Wallover commented.

Charles Schmitt, a Crucible superintendent, and Donald Green, Rotary Club president were on hand to give instructions. Joseph D'Alesio, president of United Steelworkers Union Local 1212 and a co-chairman, was unable to attend.

Workers' kits were distributed. They were explained by Mrs. Jo Laughner, staff representative of the Beaver office of the United Fund of Beaver County. Chris Gunderson of Beaver Falls, executive secretary of the county organization, attended.

Workers and chairmen were introduced. A film, instructing workers on the campaign, was screened by George Parasida of the Visual Aids Department of the high school.

Funds collected will help support services during 1961 for two local area service agencies—the A. L. Sonnhalter Chapter of the Hot Stove League of Midland and East Liverpool City Hospital.

The other 23 countywide agencies to be aided are divided into three groups:

Health—Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Cancer Society, Heart Association, Mental Health Society, Mental Hygiene Clinic, Multiple Sclerosis Society and Retarded Children's Association.

Welfare — Aliquippa Hospital, American Red Cross, Beaver Valley General Hospital, Catholic Social Service, Children's Aid Family Service, Children's Home, Home for the Aged, Providence Hospital, Rochester General Hospital, Salvation Army and Travelers Aid Society.

Character Building — Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of Beaver County, United Service Organizations, the YMCA of Pennsylvania and the YMCA of Beaver Valley.

Besides the Midland area's two local agencies, there are 13 other local agencies of other communities in the county.

Midland's goal is some $35 higher than the tentative goal announced in July. The county goal is $633,823. Goals of other communities include: Greater Aliquippa area $143,900; Ambridge area $116,968, Beaver area $65,215, Conway-Freedom area $5,022, Monaca area $69,200, Rochester area $28,000, Upper Beaver Valley $155,358 and countywide solicitations $12,187.

Breakdown of the county goal shows $505,984 is needed for 23 countywide agencies, $59,278 for 15 local service agencies, $16,560 for 1960 campaign expense budget, $12,526 for 1961 reserve for pledge shrinkage, $34,475 for 1961 United Fund administration and $5,000 for a contingency fund for county welfare study.

Man Killed By Car

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Frances Lester Wilson, 66, of Rt. 1, Bloomingburg (Fayette County) was killed Monday when he was struck by an oncoming auto at the intersection of Ohio 734 and Ohio 70 at Jeffersonville. Officials said Wilson had left a car and walked behind it into the path of another car. The driver was not cited.

Hope Given For U.S. Grant On Brookfield Sewage Works

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trumbull County commissioners have been given some hope of getting a federal grant toward construction of a sewage treatment works in the Brookfield sewer district.

Commissioners W. A. James and Roy A. Stillwagon met Monday with E. B. Ransom, assistant sanitary engineer for the Ohio Health Department. Ransom administers the federal grant program for the Ohio Water Pollution Control oard.

Ransom said he explained to them the possibilities of getting federal money for the Brookfield district. The board assigned the district 15th priority, but the money the federal government made available to Ohio this year —$1,653,000—was only enough to help the first 14 priority areas.

No. 1 priority was given to the Mineral Ridge sewer district, also in trumbull County. The U. S. Public Health Service regional office in Chicago last Thursday offered that district a federal grant of about $112,000, Ransom said.

The federal government will pay up to 30 per cent of the cost of a sewage treatment works or a maximum of $250,000, whichever is less.

If bids for a project are less than the estimated cost, then the federal grant would be less. In that case, federal money would be left over for other Ohio projects, Ransom told the commissioners.

In this way, he said, there is the possibility the Brookfield district could still get a federal grant.

The Public Health Service has already made grant offers to about seven of the 14 priority areas in Ohio, Ransom said. And within about three months, he added, after project bids are taken it should be known if any federal money will be left over for Brookfield or other priority districts.

There is also the remote possibility, Ransom said, that some of the 14 priority districts may decide not to proceed with their sewage projects. In that case, he added, Brookfield would be next in line for the federal money.

The federal program calls for project construction to be under way by next Jan. 1. The federal grants go toward the building of sewage treatment plants and intercepting sewers.

Lana Has Tax Troubles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lana Turner has income tax troubles. The Internal Revenue Service Monday filed a tax lien against the actress' property, claiming she owes $13,589 for last year. Her business agent said there is a delinquency, but it will be taken care of within a month.

10,000 De Gaulle Rivals Routed In March Attempt

PARIS (AP)—About 10,000 opponents of President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria tried to march on the Presidential Palace Monday and were quickly routed in a clash with riot police.

About 40 persons, including police, suffered bloody noses and cracked heads. Twenty or so youths were arrested.

The clash may add fuel to a parliamentary session starting today. Many deputies are nursing complaints about De Gaulle's policies. Encouraged by signs of dissatisfaction by many Frenchmen, the deputies are expected to give Premier Michael Debre a rough time. De Gaulle himself is not responsible to Parliament.

The attempted march on the Elysee Palace was led by about 2,500 war veterans, who staged a demonstration at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They demanded stronger measures to put down the nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

Fund Appeal Kicked Off In Midland Area

The United Fund campaign in the Midland area—with a goal of $37,973—was kicked off at a meeting of divisional chairmen and workers Monday night at Lincoln High School.

The residential solicitation will begin next Monday in Midland, Fairview-Smiths Ferry and Ohio View-Industry. Lists of volunteer workers are expected to be completed this week.

Solicitation of pledges from employes of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. will begin Wednesday, according to Fingle Bloom, chairman of the Combined Charities of Crucible.

He pointed out that money pledged by workers who do not reside in the Midland area will be sent to the fund organizations where they do live.

Each worker who gives will receive a United Fund sticker and lapel pin. Stickers should be displayed prominently so that those who give are not asked to give again during the residential solicitation, Bloom said.

Everyone will be asked to contribute his "fair share" during the drive, now scheduled to end Oct. 24. Solicitation will include industry, utilities, professional people, stores, taverns, clubs and other organizations.

A large thermometer sign on a lot on Midland Ave., between 6th and 7th Sts. will show progress as the campaign continues.

A report meeting for workers will be held Oct. 17, with a final report meeting Oct. 24.

A meeting of the Combined Charities Board of Crucible with supervisors and union grievance committeemen was scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 at the Midland Steelworkers Hall.

George Burrier, manager of the Midland Works and Beaver County United Fund campaign chairman, will address the group, along with James Mullen of East Liverpool, United Steelworkers staff representative.

Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, president of the Midland Area Charities, spoke to some 40 chairmen and workers.

"Every agency that benefits has been investigated as to its need and worthiness," he said.

"If you pity the unfortunate and if you want to be a part of major programs being worked out, you'll take a great pride in giving," Wallover commented.

Charles Schmitt, a Crucible superintendent, and Donald Green, Rotary Club president were on hand to give instructions. Joseph D'Alesio, president of United Steelworkers Union Local 1212 and a co-chairman, was unable to attend.

Workers' kits were distributed. They were explained by Mrs. Jo Laughner, staff representative of the Beaver office of the United Fund of Beaver County. Chris Gunderson of Beaver Falls, executive secretary of the county organization, attended.

Workers and chairmen were introduced. A film, instructing workers on the campaign, was screened by George Paranida of the Visual Aids Department of the high school.

Funds collected will help support services during 1961 for two local area service agencies—the A. L. Sonnhalter Chapter of the Hot Stove League of Midland and East Liverpool City Hospital.

The other 23 countywide agencies to be aided are divided into three groups:

Health—Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Cancer Society, Heart Association, Mental Health Society, Mental Hygiene Clinic, Multiple Sclerosis Society and Retarded Children's Association.

Welfare — Aliquippa Hospital, American Red Cross, Beaver Valley General Hospital, Catholic Social Service, Children's Aid Family Service, Children's Home, Home for the Aged, Providence Hospital, Rochester General Hospital, Salvation Army and Travelers Aid Society.

Character Building — Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of Beaver County, United Service Organizations, the YMCA of Pennsylvania and the YMCA of Beaver Valley.

Besides the Midland area's two local agencies, there are 13 other local agencies of other communities in the county.

Midland's goal is some $36 higher than the tentative goal announced in July. The county goal is $633,633. Goals of other communities include: Greater Aliquippa area $143,900; Ambridge area $116,000, Beaver area $65,215, Conway-Freedom area $5,022, Monaca area $69,200, Rochester area $28,000, Upper Beaver Valley $155,350 and countywide solicitations $12,187.

Breakdown of the county goal shows $505,904 is needed for 23 countywide agencies, $30,270 for 15 local service agencies, $16,500 for 1960 campaign expense budget, $12,526 for 1961 reserve for pledge shrinkage, $54,475 for 1961 United Fund administration and $5,000 for a contingency fund for county welfare study.

Man Killed By Car

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Frances Lester Wilson, 66, of Rt. 1, Bloomingburg (Fayette County) was killed Monday when he was struck by an oncoming auto at the intersection of Ohio 734 and Ohio 70 at Jeffersonville. Officials said Wilson had left a car and walked behind it into the path of another car. The driver was not cited.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trumbull County commissioners have been given some hope of getting a federal grant toward construction of a sewage treatment works in the Brookfield sewer district.

Commissioners W. A. James and Roy A. Stillwagon met Monday with E. B. Ransom, assistant sanitary engineer for the Ohio Health Department. Ransom administers the federal grant program for the Ohio Water Pollution Control board.

Ransom said he explained to them the possibilities of getting federal money for the Brookfield district. The board assigned the district 15th priority, but the money the federal government made available to Ohio this year —$1,653,000—was only enough to help the first 14 priority areas.

No. 1 priority was given to the Mineral Ridge sewer district, also in trumbull County. The U. S. Public Health Service regional office in Chicago last Thursday offered that district a federal grant of about $112,000, Ransom said.

The federal government will pay up to 30 per cent of the cost of a sewage treatment works or a maximum of $250,000, whichever is less.

If bids for a project are less than the estimated cost, then the federal grant would be less. In that case, federal money would be left over for other Ohio projects, Ransom told the commissioners.

In this way, he said, there is the possibility the Brookfield district could still get a federal grant.

The Public Health Service has already made grant offers to about seven of the 14 priority areas in Ohio, Ransom said. And within about three months, he added, after project bids are taken it should be known if any federal money will be left over for Brookfield or other priority districts.

There is also the remote possibility, Ransom said, that some of the 14 priority districts may decide not to proceed with their sewage projects. In that case, he added, Brookfield would be next in line for the federal money.

The federal program calls for project construction to be under way by next Jan. 1. The federal grants go toward the building of sewage treatment plants and intercepting sewers.

Lana Has Tax Troubles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lana Turner has income tax troubles. The Internal Revenue Service Monday filed a tax lien against the actress' property, claiming she owes $12,500 for last year. Her business agent said there is a delinquency, but it will be taken care of within a month.

10,000 De Gaulle Rivals Routed In March Attempt

PARIS (AP)—About 10,000 opponents of President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria tried to march on the Presidential Palace Monday and were quickly routed in a clash with riot police.

About 40 persons, including police, suffered bloody noses and cracked heads. Twenty or so youths were arrested.

The clash may add fuel to a parliamentary session starting today. Many deputies are nursing complaints about De Gaulle's policies. Encouraged by signs of dissatisfaction by many Frenchmen, the deputies are expected to give Premier Michael Debre a rough time. De Gaulle himself is not responsible to Parliament.

The attempted march on the Elysee Palace was led by about 2,500 war veterans, who staged a demonstration at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They demanded stronger measures to put down the nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

Ohio PTA Schedules Vote On Land For Headquarters

CLEVELAND (AP)—A vote on whether to authorize the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers to purchase land for a permanent headquarters site was scheduled today by delegates to the 55th annual convention of the organization.

C. L. Dumaree, chairman of the Ohio PTA headquarters committee, told delegates at Monday's opening session that the congress now rents office space in the Lincoln-LeVeque tower in Columbus at a cost of $6,000 a year. He added that a site in the Market-Mohawk area of Columbus for a new headquarters is being considered.

Dumaree, an assistant superintendent of Columbus schools, said a site in the area under consideration might cost $50,000 or $60,000 and that the PTA has a $25,000 "nest egg toward the purchase of land." He said he could not guess on how long it might be before the PTA could start construction on its own building.

Both Mrs. Donald N. Crockett of Cleveland, state PTA president, and Dumaree said the headquarters committee had no thought of going to the membership for funds as has been done in some states where PTA headquarters buildings have been erected.

Dumaree told the delegates that 10 years ago when the Ohio PTA had 405,000 members rentals cost $2,600 a year.

"Today we have 740,000 members," he added. "that's almost doubling our membership in 10 years. Rentals have more than doubled."

Lodge Says Soviet May Need New Allies Against Red China

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The time may come, says Henry Cabot Lodge, when the Soviets will be looking for new allies to help defend them against their most formidable ally of today—communist China.

"But I didn't say soon," the Republican vice-presidential candidate told a nationwide television audience Monday night. "I said maybe my grandchildren — and they are eight in number—might see the day when the Soviets are so scared of the Chinese they would turn to us."

Lodge, interviewed on a TV panel show in Los Angeles by a group of educators, made another prediction of a long cold war in response to a question about the current debate in the United Nations.

"I don't want to paint a rosy picture," he said. "This conflict is going on for a generation. But he (Soviet Premier Khrushchev) has lost this round in New York, and he has lost it badly."

Lodge said the Communists might be trying to do in New York today what they did in Russia in 1917. In that year, he said, the Communists lost an election but Lenin declared existing election procedures were outmoded and the Communists took over.

Lodge said Khrushchev might have decided: "If I come to New York and do what Lenin did in the Constituent Assembly in Leningrad, maybe I can break up the United Nations."

"But," Lodge said, "I think he'll find the United Nations a tougher nut to crack."

Miss Callie Tsapis of Weirton, Democratic member of the West Virginia House of Delegates from Hancock County, will be a candidate for speaker of the house in the 55th legislature, provided she is re-elected in the Nov. 8 general election.

The formal election of a new speaker will take place when the 55th legislature convenes Jan. 11 to begin a 60-day session. But the real choice will be made sometime in advance of that date in a caucus of the Democratic majority which controls the house.

This is assuming the Democrats still will be in control of the house in the new legislature. The incumbent speaker, Harry R. Pauley of Iaeger, is not running for re-election to the house.

Miss Tsapis, a member of the Hancock County Bar Association, is one of five women members of the house. There never has been a woman speaker.

Miss Tsapis Eyes Speaker's Post In 1961 Legislature

Miss Callie Tsapis of Weirton, Democratic member of the West Virginia House of Delegates from Hancock County, will be a candidate for speaker of the house in the 55th legislature, provided she is re-elected in the Nov. 8 general election.

The formal election of a new speaker will take place when the 55th legislature convenes Jan. 11 to begin a 60-day session. But the real choice will be made sometime in advance of that date in a caucus of the Democratic majority which controls the house.

This is assuming the Democrats still will be in control of the house in the new legislature. The incumbent speaker, Harry R. Pauley of Iaeger, is not running for re-election to the house.

Miss Tsapis, a member of the Hancock County Bar Association, is one of five women members of the house. There never has been a woman speaker.

She will be opposed in the election by Lyle Miller (R) of Weirton. Seven others in the house said they also will be candidates for the speaker's post.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Here are the facts: I'm 60, my husband is 66; we've been married 32 years, raised seven children, all grown, six living at home.

Husband no sentimentalist; never took family on outing or gave a compliment.

We managed to stay together and live in peace. Home comfortable—no palace, but nice.

Three bedrooms, crowded but ample. Four boys share large bedroom, two girls in other.

Husband's three sisters decided I should inherit the old lady. They each have spare rooms.

I'd have to put her up in the living room. I refused flat.

Husband pouting. Says I'm meanest woman alive.

Should I reconsider? — MEANEST WOMAN?

Dear Not So Mean: No. A 90-year-old in living room would turn home into infirmary. One of husband's sisters with bedroom should take mother in or all kids contribute to support in rest home.

Let husband pout. Burden on you—if Grandma moved in—not him.

A Ring In The Nose

Dear Ann: I can't see daylight on this. Maybe you can help.

I've been divorced almost five years. My daughters are 6 and 7 years of age. Two years ago I started to go with a lovely man.

He likes my little girls and they like him.

We planned to marry late in the fall so I told my girls that I was quitting my job to marry Ben.

The 6-year-old said "goody" but the 7-year-old went into a crying spell and screamed, "No you can't do that!"

She wouldn't stop crying until I promised her I'd wait awhile longer. She kept saying, "I want you to marry Daddy again."

This is impossible because my first husband has a terrible temper and we fought all the time. We could never make a go of it.

If this child is going to be unhappy I'd rather continue to work the rest of my life and stay single. Please tell me what to do. —MAY B.

Dear May: If you're so brainless that you'd permit a 7-year-old to lead you around by the nose you ought to stay single. The man deserves better.

Women who pass up a chance to make a life for themselves because their kids kick up a fuss should look ahead about 10 years.

When these same kids want to go off and have a life of their own — they go. And so it should be—both ways.

Married Bliss

Dear Ann: I was disappointed when you told a reader, "When two people who have been married 20 years never have a difference of opinion, one of them is unnecessary."

My husband and I just celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary. We have never had an argument. What do you say to that, Mrs. Know-It-All? — LOVEBIRDS.

Household Hint

Dear Ann: I have a suggestion for the mother who complained because her son's girl friend was staining his white shirts with indelible lipstick.

I raised five sons and I'm an expert at this. Just put a little uncooked shortening on the lipstick stain.

After an hour or so it will be ready for the washing machine. A regular detergent will finish the job. — X-PERT.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Free Substitution Seen More Remote Then Ever

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The return of free substitution to college football appeared more remote than ever, despite the current use of the "wild card" substitution rule that allows one player free entry after each play.

Charles (Rip) Engle, Penn State coach and president of the American Football Coaches Association, said Monday that he sees no chance at all for return of the rule that dominated the college game a decade ago.

He warned his coaching colleagues not to abuse the current wild card rule by turning it into a messenger service to run plays in and out of the game similar to Paul Brown of the professional Cleveland Browns. Brown calls each offensive play from the bench and sends it into the game with one of his offensive guards.

Engle said the coaches don't want free substitution as it once was.

"You would have a squad of 40 men at one end of the field learning offense and one of 40 men at the other end of the field learning defense, each with a separate coach," he said. "It's happened in the past and coaches don't want it to happen again."

Many observers have felt that current substitution rules were paving the way for the return of unlimited substitution.

A player now is allowed two entries per quarter if he enters with two or more of his teammates. The wild card rule allows him to enter alone without being charged.

Field-Goal Specialist Leads SEC In Scoring

ATLANTA (AP) — A Georgia Tech halfback who hasn't carried the football all season leads the Southeastern Conference in scoring and is being boomed as a possible All-America.

The thing that makes Tommy Wells a unique fellow is his talented toe. In three games, the 6-foot-1, 194-pound senior has kicked five field goals without a miss, three of them in one game, two for 40 yards and one of those in the teeth of a whistling Texas wind.

His field goals and five points after touchdowns give Wells 20 points, two more than three SEC challengers who play offense all the time. Wells, not strictly a kicking specialist, plays sideback for Tech on defense but is seldom in the game when Tech has the ball — except when it's in field goal range.

"We were fooling around one day before practice, and Coach Whitey Urban (former Tech assistant) took some time with me in place-kicking. That started it," Wells says.

He kicked 4 of 10 field goals as a sophomore and 2 of 5 last year.

Pughtown Seeks Water And Sewer Service In Village

A delegation from Pughtown presented petitions requesting the establishment of a public service district in the rural village to Hancock County Commissioners Monday night.

The petitions, with over 100 signatures, were presented Commissioners by the Rev. William H. Flurkey, Oliver Glass and Mrs. Burr Fink at a meeting in New Cumberland.

Creation of a public service district would aid the village residents in obtaining water and sewage services. No date was set for a hearing on the request, pending a survey of the territory by A. L. Stackpole of Newell, county surveyor.

Commissioners also awarded a $1,725 contract to the Greco Plumbing & Heating Co. of Weirton for installing a new furnace in the house adjacent to the County Jail.

The next meeting will be Nov. 7 at 7:30 p. m. in the County Courthouse. David N. Thomas of Weirton, president, presided.

Communists Second In Finland Elections

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Right-wing parties are still the strongest political force in Finland after municipal elections, but the Communists are in second place.

The right-wingers, dominated by Prime Minister Urho Kekkonen's Agrarians, received more than 950,000 votes in the balloting Monday and Sunday. This was a gain of more than 100,000 votes since the last municipal elections in 1956.

The Communists picked up 50,000 votes for a total of more than 400,000.

Council

East Liverpool native, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bucher, 1035 Bradshaw Ave. He is a member of the Trinity Presbyterian Church, the Elks Lodge and the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

He attended Lincoln School and East Liverpool High School, where he played basketball and football. He was graduated in 1941. Bucher served in the Army 2½ years during World War II, seeing service in the European Theater with an engineer outfit.

Following announcement of the election result, Council voted to make the ballot unanimous for Bucher. The unexpired term runs until Dec. 31, 1961.

The names of the other applicants for the post were not announced, although they appeared on the typewritten ballots distributed to the members. President Charles N. Edwards said he was advised by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper that it was not necessary to read the written applications for the post.

Edwards pointed out Council was not required to confine its choice to the nine applicants. Any qualified East Liverpool resident could have been elected, he explained.

The other applicants were listed on the ballot as: Clarence Reagle, William Rea, George Conelly, Ben Zeigler, H. A. Tullis, James Cunningham and John Chambers.

Reagle is a member of the Civil Service Commission and Rea was appointed to the City Planning Commission last week by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. Tullis and Zeigler are former councilmen.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Robert F. Popp, Review reporter, served as tellers.

A few moments later, Councilman Donald Hancock was elected president pro tem, another post held by Seevers. The pro tem presides in the absence of the president. Hancock's election was unanimous on the motion of Councilman Clifford Cooper, seconded by Councilman Donald Smith. When no more names were offered, Smith's move to close the nomination was adopted.

Edwards said he will wait until the next regular meeting Oct. 17 before announcing realignment of committees necessitated by Seevers' resignation and the election of Bucher. Seevers was chairman of the finance committee and a member of several other committees.

Seevers submitted his resignation Sept. 19, timing it to take effect Sept. 30. He and his wife, Audrey, left Saturday to make their home in Norwalk, Calif.

Council set Sept. 24 at the deadline for applications for the post. Seevers served as Fourth Ward councilman in 1956-57 and was elected a member-at-large in the Democratic sweep last November.

Khrushchev

in the world movement. It is fairly clear, too, that the Communist Chinese have been resentful. They have big plans for their role in Africa and the Middle East. They are far less impressed than Khrushchev with the horrors of nuclear war.

In New York, Khrushchev has acted like a man assigned a specific job. One day he roars. The next he conducts himself with relative dignity. Always his thunderous pronouncements and startling interruptions leave the idea that they seem well thought out, in advance.

Could it be that Khrushchev is an instrument, perhaps of a tight collective in Moscow?

Is Khrushchev just being tolerated in the title roles of party chief and government leader so long as he continues to display striking talents as a salesman for communism?

blamed the Soviet Union for a series of acts aggravating tensions and indicated clearly the scant likelihood of a meeting with Khrushchev.

President Tito of Yugoslavia sails for home this morning. President Nasser of the United Arab Republic prepared to board his special plane, bound for Cairo, later in the day.

President Sukarno of Indonesia is slated to leave Thursday for Paris to see President Charles de Gaulle of France, the only one of the Big Four leaders who did not attend this Assembly.

On file with the U.N. was an Australian amendment to the neutrals' resolution calling for another summit conference by the Big Four "at the earliest practicable date." It was introduced by Prime Minister Robert Menzies. He conferred with Eisenhower Sunday.

Menzies said he did not know whether the United States would support his proposal. American diplomats indicated they would.

However, the words "at the earliest practicable date" left the situation ambiguous. When the summit blew up in Paris last May, the three Western leaders said they were ready to resume the talks "at any suitable time." Khrushchev several times has proposed another summit within a few months—after Eisenhower leaves the White House.

First, he lined up a phalanx of speakers to support his demand for seating Red China in the U. N. Most of them centered their fire on the United States. One Communist speaker—obviously aiming at the African delegates—raised the question of the treatment of Negroes in the United States during his argument for admitting Communist China.

Second, Khrushchev kept up a drum-fire attack on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, trying to force him to resign and threatening that the Communist bloc will disregard him if he doesn't.

Hammarskjold, in an icy cool rejoinder, told the Assembly he has no intention of knuckling under to Khrushchev.

Third, Khrushchev worked harder than ever at lobbying for support outside the U. N. He whirled from luncheons to cocktail parties to receptions and dinners, glad-handing delegates, cracking jokes, smiling, and playing the soul of sweet reason.

How much impact Khrushchev has made is yet to be determined.

The vote on Red China may be a clear-cut gauge. Last year, the proposal to seat Peiping was shunted aside by a vote of 44-29, with nine abstentions. With 13 new nations admitted this year, Khrushchev could make it much closer.

There seems little possibility that he can unseat Hammarskjold.

But Khrushchev laid down a clearly implied threat. "If he himself does not muster up enough courage to resign," he said, "then we shall draw the necessary conclusions from the prevailing situation."

That appeared to imply that in the event of another problem such as the Congo—where Khrushchev has accused Hammarskjold of favoring the West — the Communist bloc would refuse to abide by any U. N. decisions.

Edwards pointed out Council was not required to confine its choice to the nine applicants. Any qualified East Liverpool resident could have been elected, he explained.

The other applicants were listed on the ballot as: Clarence Reagle, William Rea, George Conelly, Ben Zeigler, H. A. Tullis, James Cunningham and John Chambers.

Reagle is a member of the Civil Service Commission and Rea was appointed to the City Planning Commission last week by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. Tullis and Zeigler are former councilmen.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Robert F. Popp, Review reporter, served as tellers.

A few moments later, Councilman Donald Hancock was elected president pro tem, another post held by Seevers. The pro tem presides in the absence of the president. Hancock's election was unanimous on the motion of Councilman Clifford Cooper, seconded by Councilman Donald Smith. When no more names were offered, Smith's move to close the nomination was adopted.

Edwards said he will wait until the next regular meeting Oct. 17 before announcing realignment of committees necessitated by Seevers' resignation and the election of Bucher. Seevers was chairman of the finance committee and a member of several other committees.

Seevers submitted his resignation Sept. 19, timing it to take effect Sept. 30. He and his wife, Audrey, left Saturday to make their home in Norwalk, Calif.

Council set Sept. 24 at the deadline for applications for the post. Seevers served as Fourth Ward councilman in 1956-57 and was elected a member-at-large in the Democratic sweep last November.

in the world movement. It is fairly clear, too, that the Communist Chinese have been resentful. They have big plans for their role in Africa and the Middle East. They are far less impressed than Khrushchev with the horrors of nuclear war.

In New York, Khrushchev has acted like a man assigned a specific job. One day he roars. The next he conducts himself with relative dignity. Always his thunderous pronouncements and startling interruptions leave the idea that they seem well thought out, in advance.

Could it be that Khrushchev is an instrument, perhaps of a tight collective in Moscow?

Is Khrushchev just being tolerated in the title roles of party chief and government leader so long as he continues to display striking talents as a salesman for communism?

blamed the Soviet Union for a series of acts aggravating tensions and indicated clearly the scant likelihood of a meeting with Khrushchev.

President Tito of Yugoslavia sails for home this morning. President Nasser of the United Arab Republic prepared to board his special plane, bound for Cairo, later in the day.

President Sukarno of Indonesia is slated to leave Thursday for Paris to see President Charles de Gaulle of France, the only one of the Big Four leaders who did not attend this Assembly.

On file with the U.N. was an Australian amendment to the neutrals' resolution calling for another summit conference by the Big Four "at the earliest practicable date." It was introduced by Prime Minister Robert Menzies. He conferred with Eisenhower Sunday.

Menzies said he did not know whether the United States would support his proposal. American diplomats indicated they would.

However, the words "at the earliest practicable date" left the situation ambiguous. When the summit blew up in Paris last May, the three Western leaders said they were ready to resume the talks "at any suitable time." Khrushchev several times has proposed another summit within a few months—after Eisenhower leaves the White House.

Khrushchev was driving hard on three other fronts, trying to attain his objectives in this session of the Assembly.

First, he lined up a phalanx of speakers to support his demand for seating Red China in the U. N. Most of them centered their fire on the United States. One Communist speaker—obviously aiming at the African delegates—raised the question of the treatment of Negroes in the United States during his argument for admitting Communist China.

Second, Khrushchev kept up a drum-fire attack on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, trying to force him to resign and threatening that the Communist bloc will disregard him if he doesn't.

Hammarskjold, in an icy cool rejoinder, told the Assembly he has no intention of knuckling under to Khrushchev.

Third, Khrushchev worked harder than ever at lobbying for support outside the U. N. He whirled from luncheons to cocktail parties to receptions and dinners, glad-handing delegates, cracking jokes, smiling, and playing the soul of sweet reason.

How much impact Khrushchev has made is yet to be determined.

The vote on Red China may be a clear-cut gauge. Last year, the proposal to seat Peiping was shunted aside by a vote of 44-29, with nine abstentions. With 13 new nations admitted this year, Khrushchev could make it much closer.

There seems little possibility that he can unseat Hammarskjold.

But Khrushchev laid down a clearly implied threat. "If he himself does not muster up enough courage to resign," he said, "then we shall draw the necessary conclusions from the prevailing situation."

That appeared to imply that in the event of another problem such as the Congo—where Khrushchev has accused Hammarskjold of favoring the West — the Communist bloc would refuse to abide by any U. N. decisions.

The two men later left the restaurant and drove to West Point. En route to Lightner's home, they were halted by a sheriff's deputy and questioned about the load of tools in the car. Later, the pair hid the equipment in a field at West Point.

Deputy King made the arrests Monday night and went with a track official to the field where the equipment was hidden.

Nixon Coaxes Support From New Jersey

WITH NIXON IN NEW JERSEY (AP—Vice President Richard M. Nixon coaxed support from New Jersey voters today after a free-wheeling invasion of the normally Democratic South.

The Republican presidential nominee concentrated in a series of New Jersey appearances on a contention that the Eisenhower administration has held the line against inflation and that he will continue these policies.

This represented a change of political pace from that Monday in North Carolina and Virginia when he talked up Republican conservatism, plugged for state's rights and beat the drum about the accomplishments of President Eisenhower.

Nixon told a howling, applauding crowd of about 13,000 persons in the Charlotte Coliseum that "Democrats by the million are going to vote for our ticket and not the other ticket."

The crowd was about the same size as that which had turned out two weeks ago for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, his Democratic opponent.

Nixon's pitch in Virginia and North Carolina was for a total of 26 electoral votes, compared with New Jersey's 16. In addition, the vice president predicted that he would win South Carolina's eight, a feat that Eisenhower could not accomplish.

Even if he seemed to be orienting his campaign toward Dixie, this was only a temporary thing. Nixon obviously knew that in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and other populous states lay the road to victory in November.

Nixon's invasion of Virginia, which Eisenhower carried in the last two elections, was confined to Republican Richmond. His political cavalary raid into North Carolina, which Eisenhower couldn't swing, was pointed solely at conservative, Republicanish Charlotte.

He told the sun-bathed Richmond crowd that Jefferson would "turn over in his grave" at terms of the 1960 Democratic platform.

He got rousing applause when he said: "I say that those who wrote that platform at Los Angeles forfeited the right to ask true Democrats to vote for their party in this election this year."

He didn't dwell on his own party's platform, except to say that he stands on it despite the knowledge that the South finds its civil rights features objectionable.

Buick's New Models Placed On Display Here

The Special above comes in two body styles, a four-door sedan and a four-door wagon, with a deluxe version offered in each.

It is a new-sized car, Buick's entry in the economy field. It is 188 inches long and weighs only 2,700 pounds, 1,600 pounds lighter than conventional models in the Buick line. Its light weight, moved by a 155-horsepower high-compression engine, gives the Special lively performance characteristics comparable to regular-sized Buicks.

The entire Buick line is styled with clean, sweeping lines, a conspicuous absence of chrome, and from the Special through the Electra 225 more headroom and greater passenger comfort are achieved through extensive engineering and styling changes.

Riding comfort has been improved by lowering the transmission tunnel and the additional headroom has been provided by the use of a completely new frame design.

The styling is crisp, smooth and functional. Windshields have been restyled and doors both front and rear open wider for easier entrance and exit. The rear deck is virtually flat and blends into the fender lines. The more luxurious interiors offer a wide choice of decorator color schemes in leathers, fabrics or vinyls.

"The strong family resemblance was intentional," said Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

"The Special is a member of the Buick family and we want everybody to know it. Not only does it look like a Buick, it is engineered like a Buick and performs like a Buick."

By Board Of Education

A different type of coal for heating city schools would reduce the smoke, but the fuel cost would increase anywhere from 60 to more than 100 per cent, the Board of Education was told Monday.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts, reporting on a smoke abatement survey he is making at the board's request, said he was informed the volatile material in the coal would be decreased considerably, the number of British thermal units would be increased roughly 20 per cent 'but in my opinion the cost would increase tremendously."

IN ADDITION to the greater cost of fuel, experts in the field indicated the area of some fireboxes probably would have to be decreased and changes would have to be made in the metal connecting stacks between the fireboxes and chimneys to lower the amount of air.

The lump coal now used costs $8.50 a ton and contains 38-40 per cent volatile material, Betts explained.

Using anthracite coal, the volatile material would be reduced to 7 per cent while other types would reduce the amount to around 20 per cent.

However, the cost per ton in the bins would range from $14 to $18 a ton, the superintendent was told.

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. now is making a survey of two different types of schools — Lincoln and Glenmoor — to determine the cost for possible conversion to gas.

JAMES LOWE commented the changes in the fireboxes and flues probably would make the cost prohibitive.

No action was taken by the board pending the report from the gas company.

The board asked the investigation after receiving a complaint about smoke from the Pleasant Heights School from a group of Wyoming Ave. residents at the last meeting.

Betts also reported on plans for two local conferences preceding the second State House Conference on Education Jan. 26 in Columbus.

The local meetings, which are open to any resident of the city school district, will have two general themes.

The first meeting Oct. 13 in the high school will deal with "What Do We Want From Our Schools?" A brief general meeting will be held and then discussion groups will consider topics in the category.

NO DATE has been set for the second meeting in November when the theme will be "How Can We Get What We Want?" Delegates to the state conference also will be elected.

The steering committee is headed by H. Judson English and Edwin Maloney.

Betts recalled the first state conference was held two years ago, with five from East Liverpool attending. Several recommendations made at the conference since have been enacted into law.

Written personnel policies for the Board of Education requested by the State Board of Education are being prepared, the superintendent told the board.

The policy statements will cover all employes from the superintendent's to office secretaries. However, it will not be binding until examined and enacted by the board and may be changed at the board's discretion, it was pointed out.

Asst. Supt. Paul Blair reported on the results of the Stanford achievement tests given last spring in the third, fifth and sixth grades.

First given in 1957, the results show gradual improvement in the median in each grade to where it now exceeds the national norm, Blair explained.

THE TESTS covered paragraph meaning, word meaning, spelling, language, arithmetic reasoning, arithmetic, social studies, science and study skills.

The board elected Lowe as its official delegate to the annual meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association Nov. 11 in Columbus.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $243,093 in all school funds, including $175,697 in the general operating fund.

Charter Given To Scouts Unit

A charter for Boy Scout Troop 29, sponsored by the Newell Lions Club, was presented to Dick Smith, troop committee chairman, by Jim Pattison at a club meeting Monday night in the Aaron Building in Newell.

Installation ceremonies also followed the club's dinner meeting in the Shamrock Restaurant. Pattison and Robert Gray of Chester, Cherokee District executive, were guests.

Installed were George Gogol, institutional representatives, and Smith, Leonard Copestick, Harry Skeeles, Don Stanford and Robert Carnahan, troop committee.

Frank Davis and Lester Smith of the Warwood Lions Club were visitors. The club donated toward supplies for a kindergarten being organized in Newell. Clarence Barnett, president, presided.

A Board of Directors meeting will be held in Barnett's home, 308 Grant St., Oct. 11 at 7:30 p. m. The next dinner meeting will be Oct. 17, according to William McGown.

Chester Driver Fined After 3-Way Accident

A Chester driver was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Ray Collins of Chester Monday night and a city motorist forfeited a bond when he failed to appear for a hearing.

Carl R. Haynes, 20, of Fairview Rd., Chester, was fined for hazardous driving, for which he was cited Friday after a three-car crash on Carolina Ave.

Freeman Evans, 1036 Bank St., charged with failure to halt for a stop sign Thursday night, forfeited a $15.50 bond.

Kennedy Calls 'Rest Period' In Campaign

After putting in a 16-hour day politicking in Illinois Monday Kennedy plans to take it comparatively easy. He has nothing on his formal schedule but a fund-raising speech in Indianapolis tonight.

Indiana once was a Republican stronghold, but Democrats have been making such spectacular gains there, especially in congressional races, that Kennedy has high hopes of picking up its 13 electoral votes. He will spend almost all Wednesday touring Indiana.

Although he has no public appearances on tap, even a light day in the life of a candidate has its complications.

For example he planned to meet with a publisher of Negro magazines to discuss the Negro vote.

Kennedy Monday put in another of those incredible days in which he tried to do approximately twice as much as he had time for.

He began by crossing the Mississippi River from St. Louis and touring the industrial area there. He flew south for that portion of Southern Illinois that's known as Little Egypt. He went on to Springfield for an evening speech before flying here to spend the night.

It added up to a 16-hour day in which he made 15 speeches. He was heard or seen by well over a hundred thousand persons in a day so crowded the candidate had trouble finding a moment to grab a bite to eat.

But Kennedy counted it well worth the trouble.

"It was a much warmer reception than I had expected," the Massachusetts senator said. "I am much heartened by the trip."

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who campaigned through southern illinois with Harry Truman in 1948, said: "I've never seen crowds like this in this region in my life."

Sen. Muskie Hits Nixon On 'Disservice'

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Refusal of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to discuss the real issues in the presidential campaign is a "disservice to the nation," U.S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said here Monday night.

Addressing some 950 persons at an ox roast sponsored by the Ashland County Democratic organization, the senator said:

"The insistence of the Republican presidential candidate that we should not discuss in this campaign issues that would reflect discredit upon the administration is a distinct disservice to the nation."

The senator said here and in an earlier address at Delaware that keeping the United States strong in the political, economic and military fields is the overriding issue in the campaign.

The ox roast was in celebration of the 46th birthday of Rep. Robert W. Levering of Mount Vernon, who represents Ohio's 17th district in Congress.

In an address at Mount Vernon Monday afternoon, Muskie was critical of the Republicans for criticizing Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, because Kennedy has been citing "the nation's weaknesses."

"How can we expect a citizen to choose wisely if we don't give him the facts?" he asked.

Conley To Stick To Pro Basketball For Time Being

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gene Conley who says he will never pitch for the Philadelphia Phillies again has indicated that he may return to baseball some day.

At present, however, the 6-foot-8 right-hander, will stick to professional basketball where he claims he can make more money than in baseball.

Conley said Monday night he submitted his voluntary retirement slip to Philadelphia General Manager John Quinn last weekend and indicated that his decision to leave the Phillies was a personal one.

"I will never pitch for the Phillies again," Conley said at his home in suburban Elm Grove. "They haven't shown me the respect, consideration and thoughtfulness they should to a baseball player."

The 28-year-old hurler who had an 8-14 record with the Phils this year, said that he had signed a two-year contract to play basketball with the Boston Celtics calling for a salary substantially higher than his baseball play.

Both Shut Out

Firemen Join City Program To Curb Fires

Norman Neal, president, related to Calcutta volunteer firemen highlights of a banquet kicking-off the observance of National Fire Prevention Week at a meeting Monday night.

Neal attended the banquet with other area fire chiefs in the Travelers Hotel earlier in the evening. Chief Laverne Seckman is in Canada on a fishing trip and was unable to be present.

Firemen have asked Calcutta residents to co-operate in observing National Fire Prevention Week by checking their homes for fire hazards. Home-owners should check their chimneys, flues, and heating plants for defects before cold weather arrives, dispose of oily rags that may have accumulated over the summer, and check electrical wiring for defects, firemen said.

A complete check list and literature about the fire prevention observance is available at the fire station, firemen reported. The observance begins Monday. Calcutta firemen will climax the observance by attending a fire training school at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland Oct. 15.

Neal, in rebuttal to a story in the Review last week on a talk to the Rotary Club by Atty. Joseph W. C. Cooper, city solicitor, said both Calcutta and Glenmoor firemen are obligated to answer all alarms.

Dale Horger reported that a project of refinishing the dance floor has been completed. Other work programs are under way.

The next meeting will be Monday night at 8. Horger will preside. Neal will begin a week's vacation.

During the month of August $645.50 was collected in New Mexico from 21 persons fined for fishing without valid licenses.

Kennedy Calls 'Rest Period' In Campaign

After putting in a 16-hour day politicking in Illinois Monday Kennedy plans to take it comparatively easy. He has nothing on his formal schedule but a fund-raising speech in Indianapolis tonight.

Indiana once was a Republican stronghold, but Democrats have been making such spectacular gains there, especially in congressional races, that Kennedy has high hopes of picking up its 13 electoral votes. He will spend almost all Wednesday touring Indiana.

Although he has no public appearances on tap, even a light day in the life of a candidate has its complications.

For example he planned to meet with a publisher of Negro magazines to discuss the Negro vote.

Kennedy Monday put in another of those incredible days in which he tried to do approximately twice as much as he had time for.

He began by crossing the Mississippi River from St. Louis and touring the industrial area there. He flew south for that portion of Southern Illinois that's known as Little Egypt. He went on to Springfield for an evening speech before flying here to spend the night.

It added up to a 16-hour day in which he made 15 speeches. He was heard or seen by well over a hundred thousand persons in a day so crowded the candidate had trouble finding a moment to grab a bite to eat.

But Kennedy counted it well worth the trouble.

"It was a much warmer reception than I had expected," the Massachusetts senator said. "I am much heartened by the trip."

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who campaigned through southern Illinois with Harry Truman in 1948, said: "I've never seen crowds like this in this region in my life."

Sen. Muskie Hits Nixon On 'Disservice'

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—Refusal of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to discuss the real issues in the presidential campaign is a "disservice to the nation," U.S. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, said here Monday night.

Addressing some 950 persons at an ox roast sponsored by the Ashland County Democratic organization, the senator said:

"The insistence of the Republican presidential candidate that we should not discuss in this campaign issues that would reflect discredit upon the administration is a distinct disservice to the nation."

The senator said here and in an earlier address at Delaware that keeping the United States strong in the political, economic and military fields is the overriding issue in the campaign.

The Sports Bench

Adcock, Dressen Visit Waterford . . .

Two visitors at Waterford Park Monday were Charlie Dressen, manager of the Milwaukee Braves, and their slugging first baseman Joe Adcock.

The two were taking a day off at the track awaiting the start of the World Series and it seems strange they have to be in the stands to watch the Pirates and Yankees.

Adcock proved he could pick horses like he hits National League pitching. We talked to the big first baseman prior to the running of the fifth race.

He said he liked Star Chac in the fifth and was wagering a few dollars on the horse. The result of the first race saw Star Chac winning and returning $4.40, $3.20 and $3.

Switching back to baseball, Adcock leans a little to the Pirates in the series.

"The Yanks are an awful hot club and the way they have been winning it's going to be hard for the Pirates to stop them."

"I would like to see the Pirates win though. The fact that Groat is back in the lineup gives Pittsburgh a big lift," Adcock said.

"Since we didn't win the pennant, I think Pittsburgh was well deserving of the title," he added.

Adcock was to have attended the players' meeting today in Pittsburgh and then see two games of the World Series before heading home to Louisiana for the off season months.

Dressen spent most of his time in the paddock and being showed around Waterford Park by President James F. Edwards.

McLaughlin Pushes Total to 70 . . .

Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin is in the news again this week following another scoring flurry Saturday when his team topped Salineville, 24-8.

McLaughlin is fast establishing himself as one of the leading scorers in the state after collecting 20 more points Saturday on three touchdowns and a conversion.

In four games the swift halfback has tallied 11 touchdowns and a pair of conversions for a total of 70 points.

He has a big lead as far as district scorers are concerned. His nearest rival at present is Roger Ours of Wellsville who moved into second with 42.

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	11	4	70
Ours (Wellsville)	6	6	42
Janovec (Salem)	6	4	40
Webber (F-W)	6	2	38
Hennis (NC)	5	0	30
Goodballet (EL)	4	4	28

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Kenny Cunningham kept up his passing percentage in Friday night's game with New Philly.

The sharpshooting senior now shows 33 completions in 64 attempts for a .510 average. He has thrown for five touchdowns, with his passing netting 493 yards in four games.

His best night as far as percentages are concerned came Friday when he hit 9 out of 17.

ALLIANCE grabbed a two-point lead on Massillon Friday night, but the two points which came on a safety stirred a heated dispute from the Massillon bench as Coach Leo Strang argued long and loud with the officials.

Alliance quarterback Bob Wallace had a pass intercepted by Massillon defensive back Bob Baker close to the Massillon goal line. Baker then was dropped in the end zone and the officials called it a safety.

Strang then ran onto the field and argued that Baker was in the end zone when he caught the ball. This would have meant a touch back and the Tigers would have taken over on their own 20-yard line.

3 Musketeers Star Again . . .

THE THREE musketeers from East Liverpool made headlines again Saturday on the college football front.

The biggest news from out of the Midwest Saturday was the crushing 51-19 defeat Notre Dame suffered at the hands of mighty Purdue.

And who do you think was in the middle of the big upset? Bernie Allen played a stellar role, leading the Purdue scoring with 15 points.

Allen used a variety of ways to score. He kicked a 34-yard field goal, ran six yards for the final touchdown and placed kicked six extra points. Another one of his attempts was blocked.

He also threw a touchdown pass to halfback Jim Tiller on a play that covered 30 yards.

It was the greatest day scoring wise in Bernie's college career. Saturday's game followed the UCLA contest a week ago when he passed in the waning minutes for a touchdown to give Purdue its 27-27 tie.

WHILE Allen was having his finest day, Nick Musuraca turned in his top single performance to date by scoring three touchdowns in Denison's 27-0 rout of Akron Saturday at Granville.

Nick smashed over twice from one-yard away, then climaxed the scoring with a 15-yard jaunt.

It was Denison's second straight victory and gave Musuraca the team scoring lead. He has five touchdowns in two games.

THE ACCURATE arm of Jim Potts connected for two touchdown passes in Bowling Green's 21-12 victory over Miami. It was the second straight conference win for the Falcons and gave Potts three touchdown passes in his first two games.

Bruno's Team Undefeated . . .

AS A PLAYER at Beaver Falls where he attended Geneva College, Larry Bruno was a standout and his coaching ability is following the same lines.

The former East Liverpool athlete took his bumps at Beaver Falls last season, but his team was young. They've grown up and are serving notice on the Beaver Valley area and Class "AA" teams in the WPIAL that they are the outfit to beat.

Bruno's Tigers won their fourth straight Friday night by coming from behind to down a strong Ambridge team, 25-13.

OVER THE weekend East Liverpool's reserve football squad dropped its first decision in three starts—a 12-0 setback at the hands of Minerva.

The Potter Cross-Country team dropped its opening match to Aliquippa, 25-30 (low score wins). The brother combination of Ron Hildebrand and Don Hildebrand were first home for the Potters finishing second and fourth respectively.

Louisville Captures Little World Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville baseball fans today were singing the praise of Bobby Hendley, the little southpaw who pitched the Colonels to the Junior World Series title.

Hendley mastered the Toronto Maple Leafs in the finals 5-1 Monday night, scattering six hits, striking out eight and giving no walks.

His performance gave the Colonels the series four games to two and their first series title since 1954.

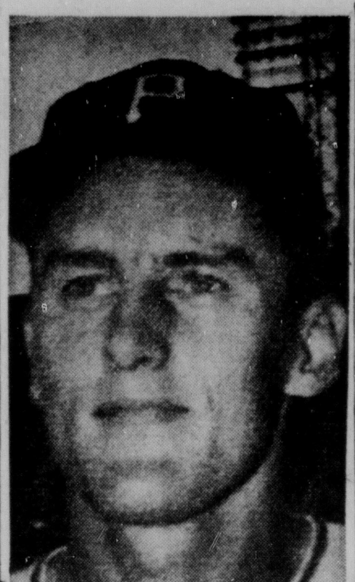
Law Faces Ditmar In First Game



VERNON LAW
Murtaugh's Choice Wednesday.

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh bristles with "we won't scare" confidence and the New York Yankees are riding high on a 15-game winning streak going into Wednesday's World Series opener at Forbes Field.

Thirty-three years ago today they said the Pirates lost their last Series to the Yanks the day before it started. It was claimed they were overawed by the fence busting of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Co. in a preseries batting drill.

Danny Murtaugh, scrappy pilot of the Bucs, told Pirates' fans not to worry about his club losing the Series before it starts. "If this club of mine gets beat," he said, "it will be in the ball game, not before it starts.

"They don't scare. Don't forget we have a pretty good ball team too. We played and won in a tougher league. We're going to show them a good infield and a good outfield and some pretty good pitching."

Casey Stengel, boss of the Yanks, was caught up in a miniature mob in the hotel lobby when he arrived Monday afternoon with his club.

As the Yanks climbed out of their plane at the airport they had been greeted by a sign "Go home, Yankees." In the lobby somebody gave Casey a record of the "Beat 'Em, Bucs" song that has swept the city.

"From what I'm told this is a good solid club," said Stengel. "But we have some good players, too. I think these fellows (Yanks) will keep right on just like they left off the season Sunday."

Before leaving New York, Stengel announced that Art Ditmar, a 31-year-old right-hander would open for the American League champs. He is expected to follow with Bob Turley and Whitey Ford in that order.

Ditmar, top winner of the Yanks with a 15-9 record, throws a sinking fast ball, good curve and slider, much the same repertoire as owned by Vern Law, the Pirates' 20-game winning starter. Ditmar has given up 25 home runs and Law 24. Both managers apparently wanted to take advantage of the spacious outfield territory in the Pirate home park.

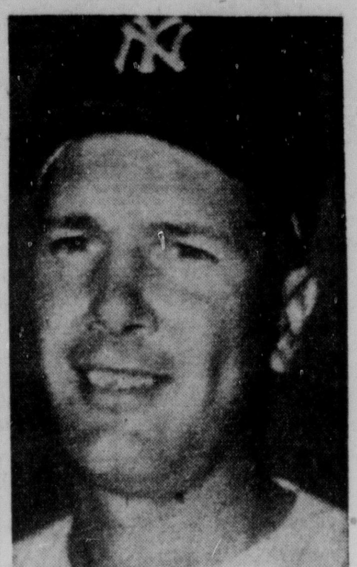
A sellout crowd of 38,000 could expect a good break from the weatherman. The advance forecast called for mostly sunny and warmer with the temperature around 70. Game time is 1 p.m. (EDT) with network (NBC) TV and radio coverage.



ART DITMAR
Stengel Will Go With Ace.

Braves Would Offer Six For Ernie Banks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, who muffed the National League pennant two years ago, are wrapping up a giant-sized package of players and a bundle of cash for home run king Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs.

The players to be offered the Cubs include pitchers Joey Jay, Carl Willey and Don Nottebart, centerfielder Billy Bruton, shortstop Johnny Logan and first baseman Frank Torre.

The informant, who requested anonymity, said the clubs would get together during the World Series to discuss the trade. He said the Cubs have agreed to listen.

With Banks in a Milwaukee uniform, the Braves would have three players who among them hit 120 home runs in 1960. The slugging shortstop, who will be 30 next Jan. 31, is the Cubs' alltime home run leader with 269 in seven seasons. He was the league's most valuable player 1958 and 1959.

The announcement of Joe Gordon as the new manager of the Kansas City Athletics succeeding Bob Elliott, will be made before the World Series moves on to New York. Gordon quit as manager of Detroit Monday, although his contract still had a year to go. Elliott was fired just about the same time.

The Detroit board of directors was to meet with general manager and President Bill DeWitt today and out of the meeting is expected to come the announcement that Don Heffner, now a coach with the Tigers, will be named manager.

Middleweight Bout Set Back Until Dec. 3

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I was so upset with the news that I felt like the whole world fell down on me," said Sugar Ray Robinson, ironically cast today in the role of complaining challenger.

Robinson was glum after learning that his Saturday title fight with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer was postponed Monday until Dec. 3. Fullmer pulled a calf muscle during a sparring session Saturday.

"Believe me, I was in top condition for this one," said Robinson at his training camp at nearby Gilman Hot Springs. "I feel I know Sugar Ray the best, so I know in my heart I was ready to prove that I was still a champion — not a has-been."

"I'm terribly sorry about this — it affects so many people," said Fullmer. "For myself, I don't mind. But the managers, promoters and television people, they worry so it makes them old."

Robinson, now 40 and fading, said during his palmy days that he would not get into the ring if an eyelash was out of place. Today the shoe was on the other foot.

In place of the Fullmer-Robinson battle, a nationally televised 12-round lightweight title elimination contest between Kenny Lane and Len Matthews will be fought.

Medina Aims To Move Up In Gonslaves Bout

Medina, 25, of Fresno, Calif., has won 14 straight bouts including 11 by knockout.

That Boy Kreitling

Brown Is Well Pleased With His Pass Receivers

Kreitling, who was Brown's first draft choice two years ago, didn't catch a single pass during limited service last season. But in two games this year he has caught four passes for 175 yards.

The red-haired end came through for the Browns at a crucial point in Sunday's 28-20 victory over Pittsburgh's Steelers.

That was in the fourth quarter, when the Steelers had come to within eight points of the Browns at 21-13. The Cleveland team hadn't been able to move the ball during the preceding period.

With the ball on the Browns' 19-yard line, first down, Coach Brown called for a pass to Kreitling. The speedy end took a pass over center from Milt Plum and made a 54-yard gain to put the Browns in position for the clinching touchdown.

"That may have been the biggest play of the game," Brown remarked last night. "We had to take the gamble.

"Kreitling kept saying he could get clear and we had to get out of that hole. It called for something drastic."

Kreitling's speed didn't surprise Brown, however. "That's one reason we drafted him," the coach said. "We figured he could go deep and take the long pass."

Kreitling said he found it easier to get loose against the Steelers because the defenders weren't holding up the ends. They were afraid that in doing so they would find themselves blocked out while Bobby Mitchell took off on a wide sweep, as he did successfully against Philadelphia the previous week.

Pittsburgh double - teamed the Browns' ace receiver, Ray Renfro, but Plum hit Bobby Mitchell three times for 72 yards, Gern Nagler four times for 79 and Kreitling three times for 157.

And this is only the beginning, said Brown. "Our passing should get better when the new players become more familiar with the patterns."

Whether the opponents gang up on the running or the passing, "I believe we can move the football either way," the coach said.

Tigers At Home Friday; JU Game To Be Oct. 27

Wellsville High's game with Wheeling Central Friday night will be played in Nicholson Stadium in Wellsville and not at the West Virginia school, Don Lowe, faculty manager, reminded fans. Meanwhile, the Tiger game with Jefferson Union has been re-scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 27, instead of Oct. 28 because of a teacher's convention.

Sunny, Warm Forecast For Series Inaugural

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sunny and warm weather was forecast today for the opening game of the World Series Wednesday between the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates.

'Bring On The Yankees,' Bucs Not Scared

Adcock, Dressen Visit Waterford . . .

Two visitors at Waterford Park Monday were Charlie Dressen, manager of the Milwaukee Braves, and their slugging first baseman Joe Adcock.

The two were taking a day off at the track awaiting the start of the World Series and it seems strange they have to be in the stands to watch the Pirates and Yankees.

Adcock proved he could pick horses like he hits National League pitching. We talked to the big first baseman prior to the running of the fifth race.

He said he liked Star Chac in the fifth and was wagering a few dollars on the horse. The result of the first race saw Star Chac winning and returning $4.40, $3.20 and $3.

Switching back to baseball, Adcock leans a little to the Pirates in the series.

"The Yanks are an awful hot club and the way they have been winning it's going to be hard for the Pirates to stop them."

"I would like to see the Pirates win though. The fact that Groat is back in the lineup gives Pittsburgh a big lift," Adcock said.

"Since we didn't win the pennant, I think Pittsburgh was well deserving of the title," he added.

Adcock was to have attended the players' meeting today in Pittsburgh and then see two games of the World Series before heading home to Louisiana for the off season months.

Dressen spent most of his time in the paddock and being showed around Waterford Park by President James F. Edwards.

McLaughlin Pushes Total to 70 . . .

McLaughlin is fast establishing himself as one of the leading scorers in the state after collecting 20 more points Saturday on three touchdowns and a conversion.

In four games the swift halfback has tallied 11 touchdowns and a pair of conversions for a total of 70 points.

He has a big lead as far as district scorers are concerned. His nearest rival at present is Roger Ours of Wellsville who moved into second with 42.

	TD's	Con.	Total
McLaughlin (BL)	11	4	70
Ours (Wellsville)	6	6	42
Janover (Salem)	6	4	40
Webber (F-W)	6	2	38
Hennis (NC)	5	0	30
Goodballet (EL)	4	4	28

The sharpshooting senior now shows 33 completions in 64 attempts for a .510 average. He has thrown for five touchdowns, with his passing netting 493 yards in four games.

His best night as far as percentages are concerned came Friday when he hit 9 out of 17.

ALLIANCE grabbed a two-point lead on Massillon Friday night, but the two points which came on a safety stirred a heated dispute from the Massillon bench as Coach Leo Strang argued long and loud with the officials.

Alliance quarterback Bob Wallace had a pass intercepted by Massillon defensive back Bob Baker close to the Massillon goal line. Baker then was dropped in the end zone and the officials called it a safety.

Strang then ran onto the field and argued that Baker was in the end zone when he caught the ball. This would have meant a touchback and the Tigers would have taken over on their own 20-yard line.

3 Musketeers Star Again . . .

THE THREE musketeers from East Liverpool made headlines again Saturday on the college football front.

The biggest news from out of the Midwest Saturday was the crushing 51-19 defeat Notre Dame suffered at the hands of mighty Purdue.

And who do you think was in the middle of the big upset? Bernie Allen played a stellar role, leading the Purdue scoring with 15 points.

Allen used a variety of ways to score. He kicked a 34-yard field goal, ran six yards for the final touchdown and placed kicked six extra points. Another one of his attempts was blocked.

He also threw a touchdown pass to halfback Jim Tiller on a play that covered 30 yards.

It was the greatest day scoring wise in Bernie's college career. Saturday's game followed the UCLA contest a week ago when he passed in the waning minutes for a touchdown to give Purdue its 27-27 tie.

* * *

WHILE Allen was having his finest day, Nick Mussuraca turned in his top single performance to date by scoring three touchdowns in Denison's 27-0 rout of Akron Saturday at Granville.

Nick smashed over twice from one-yard away, then climaxed the scoring with a 15-yard jaunt.

It was Denison's second straight victory and gave Mussuraca the team scoring lead. He has five touchdowns in two games.

THE ACCURATE arm of Jim Potts connected for two touchdown passes in Bowling Green's 21-12 victory over Miami. It was the second straight conference win for the Falcons and gave Potts three touchdown passes in his first two games.

Bruno's Team Undefeated . . .

AS A PLAYER at Beaver Falls where he attended Geneva College, Larry Bruno was a standout and his coaching ability is following the same lines.

The former East Liverpool athlete took his bumps at Beaver Falls last season, but his team was young. They've grown up and are serving notice on the Beaver Valley area and Class "AA" teams in the WPIAL that they are the outfit to beat.

Bruno's Tigers won their fourth straight Friday night by coming from behind to down a strong Ambridge team, 26-13.

The Potter Cross-Country team dropped its opening match to Aliquippa, 25-30 (low score wins). The brother combination of Ron Hildebrand and Don Hildebrand were first home for the Potters finishing second and fourth respectively.

Louisville Captures Little World Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville baseball fans today were singing the praise of Bobby Hendley, the little southpaw who pitched the Colonels to the Junior World Series title.

Hendley mastered the Toronto Maple Leafs in the finals 5-1 Monday night, scattering six hits, striking out eight and giving no walks.

Braves Would Offer Six For Ernie Banks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves, who muffed the National League pennant two years ago, are wrapping up a giant-sized package of players and a bundle of cash for home run king Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs.

The players to be offered the Cubs include pitchers Joey Jay, Carl Willey and Don Nottebart, centerfielder Billy Bruton, shortstop Johnny Logan and first baseman Frank Torre.

The informant, who requested anonymity, said the clubs would get together during the World Series to discuss the trade. He said the Cubs have agreed to listen.

With Banks in a Milwaukee uniform, the Braves would have three players who among them hit 120 home runs in 1960. The slugging shortstop, who will be 30 next Jan. 31, is the Cubs' all-time home run leader with 269 in seven seasons. He was the league's most valuable player 1958 and 1959.

The announcement of Joe Gordon as the new manager of the Kansas City Athletics succeeding Bob Elliott, will be made before the World Series moves on to New York. Gordon quit as manager of Detroit Monday, although his contract still had a year to go. Elliott was fired just about the same time.

The Detroit board of directors was to meet with general manager and President Bill DeWitt today and out of the meeting is expected to come the announcement that Don Heffner, now a coach with the Tigers, will be named manager.

Middleweight Bout Set Back Until Dec. 3

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I was so upset with the news that I felt like the whole world fell down on me," said Sugar Ray Robinson, ironically cast today in the role of complaining challenger.

Robinson was glum after learning that his Saturday title fight with middleweight champion Gene Fullmer was postponed Monday until Dec. 3. Fullmer pulled a calf muscle during a sparring session Saturday.

"Believe me, I was in top condition for this one," said Robinson at his training camp at nearby Gilman Hot Springs. "I feel I know Sugar Ray the best, so I know in my heart I was ready to prove that I was still a champion — not a has-been."

"I'm terribly sorry about this — it affects so many people," said Fullmer. "For myself, I don't mind. But the managers, promoters and television people, they worry so it makes them sick."

Robinson, now 40 and fading, said during his palmy days that he would not get into the ring if an eyelash was out of place. Today the shoe was on the other foot.

In place of the Fullmer-Robinson battle, a nationally televised 12-round lightweight title elimination contest between Kenny Lane and Len Matthews will be fought.

Medina Aims To Move Up In Gonslaves Bout

Law Faces Ditmar In First Game

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh bristles with "we won't scare" confidence and the New York Yankees are riding high on a 15-game winning streak going into Wednesday's World Series opener at Forbes Field.

Thirty-three years ago today they said the Pirates lost their last Series to the Yanks the day before it started. It was claimed they were overawed by the fence busting of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Co. in a preseries batting drill.

Danny Murtaugh, scrappy pilot of the Bucs, told Pirates' fans not to worry about his club losing the Series before it starts. "If this club of mine gets beat," he said, "it will be in the ball game, not before it starts.

"They don't scare. Don't forget we have a pretty good ball team too. We played and won in a tougher league. We're going to show them a good infield and a good outfield and some pretty good pitching."

Casey Stengel, boss of the Yanks, was caught up in a miniature mob in the hotel lobby when he arrived Monday afternoon with his club.

As the Yanks climbed out of their plane at the airport they had been greeted by a sign "Go home, Yankees." In the lobby somebody gave Casey a record of the "Beat 'Em, Bucs" song that has swept the city.

"From what I'm told this is a good solid club," said Stengel. "But we have some good players, too. I think these fellows (Yanks) will keep right on just like they left off the season Sunday."

Before leaving New York, Stengel announced that Art Ditmar, a 31-year-old right-hander would open for the American League champs. He is expected to follow with Bob Turley and Whitey Ford in that order.

Ditmar, top winner of the Yanks with a 15-9 record, throws a sinking fast ball, good curve and slider, much the same repertoire as owned by Vern Law, the Pirates' 20-game winning starter. Ditmar has given up 25 home runs and Law 24. Both managers apparently wanted to take advantage of the spacious outfield territory in the Pirate home park.

A sellout crowd of 36,000 could expect a good break from the weatherman. The advance forecast called for mostly sunny and warmer with the temperature around 70. Game time is 1 p.m. (EDT) with network (NBC) TV and radio coverage.

That Boy Kreitling

Brown Is Well Pleased With His Pass Receivers

Kreitling, who was Brown's first draft choice two years ago, didn't catch a single pass during limited service last season. But in two games this year he has caught four passes for 175 yards.

The red-haired end came through for the Browns at a crucial point in Sunday's 28-20 victory over Pittsburgh's Steelers.

That was in the fourth quarter, when the Steelers had come to within eight points of the Browns at 21-13. The Cleveland team hadn't been able to move the ball during the preceding period.

With the ball on the Browns' 19-yard line, first down, Coach Brown called for a pass to Kreitling. The speedy end took a pass over center from Milt Plum and made a 54-yard gain to put the Browns in position for the clinching touchdown.

"That may have been the biggest play of the game," Brown remarked last night. "We had to take the gamble.

"Kreitling kept saying he could get clear and we had to get out of that hole. It called for something drastic."

Kreitling's speed didn't surprise Brown, however. "That's one reason we drafted him," the coach said. "We figured he could go deep and take the long pass."

Kreitling said he found it easier to get loose against the Steelers because the defenders weren't holding up the ends. They were afraid that in doing so they would find themselves blocked out while Bobby Mitchell took off on a wide sweep, as he did successfully against Philadelphia the previous week.

Pittsburgh double - teamed the Browns' ace receiver, Ray Renfro, but Plum hit Bobby Mitchell three times for 72 yards, Gern Nagler four times for 79 and Kreitling three times for 157.

And this is only the beginning, said Brown. "Our passing should get better when the new players become more familiar with the patterns."

Whether the opponents gang up on the running or the passing, "I believe we can move the football either way," the coach said.

Tigers At Home Friday; JU Game To Be Oct. 27

Wellsville High's game with Wheeling Central Friday night will be played in Nicholson Stadium in Wellsville and not at the West Virginia school, Don Lowe, faculty manager, reminded fans. Meanwhile, the Tiger game with Jefferson Union has been re-scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 27, instead of Oct. 28 because of a teacher's convention.

Springfield South Bumps Alliance From Second Place

This Week's Standings Get Good Shuffling Around Ohio

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That sensational scrap between Massillon and Springfield, which started a year ago for the state high school football championship, is on again.

The mighty Massillons, who nosed out the Wildcats for the big plum in 1959, are still atop The Associated Press Poll after disposing of second place Alliance—the 1958 champ—by 14-10 last Friday. But Springfield is moving up.

The Wildcats, only team in the top 10 with an unsullied goal line and boasting the best scoring average among the elite, eased into the second spot as the Aviators fell to the Tigers in the final 57 seconds.

Some shuffling occurred in the standings this week as 42 sports editors, 13 more than a week ago,

Parma nipped Cleveland St. Edward 14-0 for its 22nd straight win, and Elder won its third by 30-22 over Cincinnati Withrow, but both fell from the select list.

Cincinnati Roger Bacon, although a 28-6 winner over Cincinnati Taft, dropped from sixth to tenth. Canton McKinley, beaten 20-14 by Akron South, slipped from fourth to sixth, while the Alliance loss didn't hurt the classy Aviators too much as they slipped only one notch to third.

There isn't room in the top 10 for everyone, but a lot of unbeaten, untied talent is trying to crowd in. With four straigh wins are such teams as Wickliffe, Ashtabula Harbor, Columbus Watterson, Bellevue (132-0), Norwalk, Urbana, Indian Lake, Martins Ferry, Beaver Local, Salem, Rutland, Fredericktown, Centerburg, New Miami, Hamilton Catholic and Marietta.

Marietta and Martins Ferry have exact records, each having won four by a 101-38 scoring margin. Boasting three straight wins are Akron South, Akron St. Vincent, Akron East, Norton, Kent Roosevelt, East Cleveland Shaw, Cleveland St. Joseph, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Euclid, Gallipolis, Athens, Steubenville Central Catholic, and Purcell and Elder of Cincinnati.

The point-getters are beginning to pop up all over the state, and the race is close. Possibly incomplete returns indicate Dick Thoma of Columbus Watterson, with 12 touchdowns and 12 conversions in four games is the leader with 84 points.

Bob Berry of Howard has 13 touchdowns for 78 points, and Fred Nori of Middletown Fenwick has scored 12 of his team's 13 touchdowns for 72. Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin has 11 touchdowns and four conversions for 70.

Paulding's Mike Goings scored 40 points Friday in the 54-6 win over Lima Perry. He went 60, 24, 24, 18, 3 and 84 yards for touchdowns and scored a pair of two-point conversions. George Jordan of London scored five touchdowns as his team beat Marysville 48-20 for its first of the season. Thoma of Watterson scored four RD's to whip Greenfield 44-28, and Berry of Howard counted four times in the 38-22 romp over Claridon.

The only thing approaching a casualty in the Massillon-Alliance classic was Tiger Coach Leo Strang. After the victory Leo almost passed out in the dressing room—too much excitement—and a physician had him sniff the smelling salts.

Bob Brugge, the former Ohio State great, is coach of the Parma team which has won 22 in a row—probably the state's best current string. Wickliffe, with four in a row, has piled up 213 points for a 53.2 average. East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham has passed for five touchdowns and 493 yards in four games.

Springfield's Mike Cobb scored four touchdowns on runs of 2, 48, 13 and 82 yards in the 32-0 win over Portsmouth as the Wildcats hung up their 16th straight. Salem's fourth in a row was a thriller. The Quakers were behind Farrell, Pa., 6-0 with less than a minute to go when Gary Devan passed 22 yards to 6-5 end Don Davidson for a touchdown, and Rick Sulea booted the conversion. Salem has a 78-6 scoring mark.

Athens has outscored the foe 120-0 in winning three, and little Rutland of Meigs County has a 19-game winning streak. Mansfield, after losing 11 in a row, has come back under Coach Bill Doolittle to win two and tie one. Doolittle, the former OSU star, was on the 1941 Mansfield team—the school's last unbeaten aggregation. Paul Dietzel, 1958 collegiate coach of the year, was on that 1941 team, too.

Indian Lake of Lakeview has outscored the opposition 237 to 22 in four games. That could be the state's best.

Here's How Voting Went For Ohio Teams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 42 sports editors, 29 from newspapers and 13 from radio-television stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams this week.

Shown are the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis and the won-lost-tied and scoring records of the leaders.

Beavers' Reserve Squad Wins, 34-8, Over Springfield

John Broadbent led the touchdown parade for the young Beavers, scoring on a 70-yard run of an intercepted pass, and a quarterback sneak of three yards.

Coach Flody Suarez's Beavers earlier whipped the South Side reserves, 41-0. The next game for the Beavers is Monday at 4 p. m. against Salineville at the Williamsport gridiron.

The heart of San Francisco's busy maritime industry is the Embarcadero — the Spanish term for "landing place." It extends for 3½ miles along San Francisco Bay.

Ohio State, Illinois Meet As Two Evenly-Matched Foes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The approaching Ohio State-Illinois encounter Saturday appears to be a contest between look-alikes.

The Buckeyes and the Illini both are 44 points ahead of two vanquished foes, each features a quarterback - fullback offense in which the forward pass is a threat and each is big and brawny.

Ohio State has downed its first two opponents in whitewash games —Southern Methodist 24-0, and Southern California 20-0. Illinois whipped Indiana 17-6 and blanked West Virginia 33-0.

Former OSU quarterback Frank Kremblas, who scouted the Illini the last two Saturdays, says the Bucks' Saturday foe possesses a strong mobile line and fast backs, with a defense which hasn't allowed any long runs or passes.

And, it seems, the same could be said for the Ohio Staters.

Coach Woody Hayes, reviewing the Bucks' last two games at his press luncheon Monday, said: "we are glad we don't have too many injuries, and that we're improving, as we go into the regular season." The implication was he used the two intersectional games as tune-ups for Western Conference warfare the next seven weekends.

Hayes said the Big Ten has "the most explosive teams in 10 seasons, and the race looms as the best we've ever had. There are no weak ones, and we're fortunate we don't have to play Minnesota. They're really loaded."

Despite the Buckeyes' two one-sided wins, Hayes said, his team "is still a question mark to all of us. I was not particularly surprised by the two victories, for I feel we have the makings of a pretty good team. We'll know more Saturday."

Although he won three Big Ten crowns and two Rose Bowl games under the limited substitution rule, Hayes said:

"I'm the first to favor the new rules. We can get boys in and out in a hurry, allowing more and fresher ones to play. But it really isn't push-button football, although we can send plays in at any time. Modern football is the most intricate game ever invented. Quarterbacks change plays on the line after calling a different one in the huddle. That calls for a change in all assignments—and even a tackle has 21 techniques he must master to take care of all contingencies.

"In baseball the manager is allowed to call every pitch, every play. Basketball coaches may call time and chat with all five players at any time. But in football, the game most fraught with peril, the final decisions are up to the kids on the field. That's what makes football so much fun to coach."

Held In Train Plot

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police in suburban Woodlawn took George Henry Calton, 18, into custody Monday and said he twice tried to derail a passenger train. Officers said he had admitted putting a wooden tie on the tracks that jarred a Baltimore & Ohio train southbound from Detroit Monday afternoon, but did not slip off the track. Calton also admitted, police said, he put a tie on the tracks Monday morning, but railroaders spotted it and took it off before any damage was done. Calton was transferred to federal officials to face a charge of attempted train wreck.

Orphan Given OK To Join Teammates

CINCINNATI (AP) — Steve Puritt, 17, who ran afoul of the Ohio High School Athletic Association because he's an orphan, gets to play Friday with his Taylor High School football teammates, with court approval.

Judge Benjamin Schwartz in Juvenile Court gave the youth permission in a court order Monday and added some verbal barbs for the association.

He said, "The boy was born, raised and educated in the Three Rivers (Taylor) district.

"There is no reason to pull him up, make him leave his friends and a nice home just to satisfy the illegal opinion of some athletic authorities."

The youth was a star tackle last fall for Taylor. But W. J. McConnell, association commissioner, ruled he must play for Harrison in 1960 or not at all.

The reason was that Puritt had lived with a sister in the Taylor district. When she moved to Harrison, Steve took a room in a home in the Taylor district. But McConnell said his group's rules required the youth to follow his sister to Harrison.

Judge Schwartz commented, "The sister in Harrison has no room in her new home and Steve would have to sleep in the basement. But the association doesn't care about that."

The judge also made young Pruitt a ward of the court and gave his landlady temporary custody.

Syracuse On Top In Poll; Ole Miss 2nd

By The Associated Press

Syracuse, with a surge in the voting reminiscent of the second half rallies that have won two games for the Orangemen, today moved to the top in the Associated Press football ranking poll after two weeks in second place.

Syracuse displaced Mississippi, leader for two weeks, by a big margin in the voting by 48 newspaper, television and radio football experts who comprise the Associated Press panel. Impressive Iowa moved up from eighth place to fourth as the rankings underwent another wholesale revision. Fourth-place Illinois was the only team which remained in the same place it held after last week's voting.

Ohio State moved up from ninth place after its solid 20-0 victory over Southern California. Kansas slipped from 5th to 10th after its loss to Syracuse and Clemson dropped a notch to eighth. Newcomers are Navy, Purdue, and Arkansas, replacing Washington (No. 3) last week, Nrothwestern (No. 6) and Georgia Tech (No. 10).

In the point scoring on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second etc., it was Syracuse 428 and Ole Miss 402, just about the reverse of last week's figures.

The top teams with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Syracuse (28)	428
2. Mississippi (14)	402
3. Iowa (5)	358
4. Illinois	295
5. Ohio State	180

Springfield South Bumps Alliance From Second Place

This Week's Standings Get Good Shuffling Around Ohio

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That sensational scrap between Massillon and Springfield, which started a year ago for the state high school football championship, is on again.

The mighty Massillons, who nosed out the Wildcats for the big plum in 1959, are still atop The Associated Press Poll after disposing of second place Alliance—the 1958 champ—by 14-10 last Friday. But Springfield is moving up.

The Wildcats, only team in the top 10 with an unsullied goal line and boasting the best scoring average among the elite, eased into the second spot as the Aviators fell to the Tigers in the final 57 seconds.

Some shuffling occurred in the standings this week as 42 sports editors, 13 more than a week ago.

Parma nipped Cleveland St. Edward 14-0 for its 22nd straight win, and Elder won its third by 30-22 over Cincinnati Withrow, but both fell from the select list.

Cincinnati Roger Bacon, although a 28-6 winner over Cincinnati Taft, dropped from sixth to tenth. Canton McKinley, beaten 20-14 by Akron South, slipped from fourth to sixth, while the Alliance loss didn't hurt the classy Aviators too much as they slipped only one notch to third.

There isn't room in the top 10 for everyone, but a lot of unbeaten, untied talent is trying to crowd in. With four straight wins are such teams as Wickliffe, Ashtabula Harbor, Columbus Watterson, Bellevue (122-0), Norwalk, Urbana, Indian Lake, Martins Ferry, Beaver Local, Salem, Rutland, Fredericktown, Centerburg, New Miami, Hamilton Catholic and Marietta.

Marietta and Martins Ferry have exact records, each having won four by a 101-20 scoring margin. Boasting three straight wins are Akron South, Akron St. Vincent, Akron East, Norton, Kent Roosevelt, East Cleveland Shaw, Cleveland St. Joseph, Cleveland Cathedral Latin, Euclid, Gallipolis, Athens, Steubenville Central Catholic, and Purcell and Elder of Cincinnati.

The point-getters are beginning to pop up all over the state, and the race is close. Possibly incomplete returns indicate Dick Thoma of Columbus Watterson, with 12 touchdowns and 12 conversions in four games is the leader with 84 points.

Bob Berry of Howard has 13 touchdowns for 78 points, and Fred Nory of Middletown Fenwick has scored 12 of his team's 13 touchdowns for 72. Beaver Local's Ron McLaughlin has 11 touchdowns and four conversions for 70.

Paulding's Mike Goings scored 40 points Friday in the 54-6 win over Lima Perry. He went 60, 28, 24, 18, 3 and 84 yards for touchdowns and scored a pair of two-point conversions. George Jordan of London scored five touchdowns as his team beat Marysville 40-20 for its first of the season. Thoma of Watterson scored four TD's to whip Greenfield 44-28, and Berry of Howard counted four times in the 38-22 romp over Claridon.

The only thing approaching a casualty in the Massillon-Alliance classic was Tiger Coach Leo Strang. After the victory Leo almost passed out in the dressing room—too much excitement—and a physician had him sniff the smelling salts.

Bob Brugge, the former Ohio State great, is coach of the Parma team which has won 22 in a row—probably the state's best current string. Wickliffe, with four in a row, has piled up 213 points for a 53.2 average. East Liverpool's Kenny Cunningham has passed for five touchdowns and 493 yards in four games.

Springfield's Mike Cobb scored four touchdowns on runs of 2, 48, 13 and 82 yards in the 32-0 win over Portsmouth as the Wildcats hung up their 16th straight. Salem's fourth in a row was a thriller. The Quakers were behind Farrell, Pa., 6-0 with less than a minute to go when Gary Devan passed 22 yards to 6-5 end Don Davidson for a touchdown, and Rick Sulea booted the conversion. Salem has a 78-6 scoring mark.

Athens has outscored the foe 120-0 in winning three, and little Rutland of Meigs County has a 19-game winning streak. Mansfield, after losing 11 in a row, has come back under Coach Bill Doolittle to win two and tie one. Doolittle, the former OSU star, was on the 1941 Mansfield team—the school's last unbeaten aggregation. Paul Dietzel, 1958 collegiate coach of the year, was on that 1941 team, too.

Indian Lake of Lakeview has outscored the opposition 237 to 22 in four games. That could be the state's best.

Here's How Voting Went For Ohio Teams

Beavers' Reserve Squad Wins, 34-8, Over Springfield

Beaver Local's reserve team won its second straight game Monday afternoon at Williamsport, 34-8, over Springfield Local's reserves from Petersburg near Youngstown.

John Broadbent led the touchdown parade for the young Beavers, scoring on a 70-yard run of an intercepted pass, and a quarterback sneak of three yards.

Tom Greenwood caught a 20-yard pass and Larry Carroll recovered a Beaver Local fumble in the Springfield end zone for other touchdowns.

Ohio State, Illinois Meet As Two Evenly-Matched Foes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The approaching Ohio State-Illinois encounter Saturday appears to be a contest between look-alikes.

The Buckeyes and the Illini both are 44 points ahead of two vanquished foes, each features a quarterback - fullback offense in which the forward pass is a threat and each is big and brawny.

Ohio State has downed its first two opponents in whitewash games—Southern Methodist 24-0, and Southern California 20-0. Illinois whipped Indiana 17-6 and blanked West Virginia 33-0.

Former OSU quarterback Frank Kremblas, who scouted the Illini the last two Saturdays, says the Bucks' Saturday foe possesses a strong mobile line and fast backs, with a defense which hasn't allowed any long runs or passes.

And, it seems, the same could be said for the Ohio Staters.

Coach Woody Hayes, reviewing the Bucks' last two games at his press luncheon Monday, said: "we are glad we don't have too many injuries, and that we're improving, as we go into the regular season." The implication was he used the two intersectional games as tune-ups for Western Conference warfare the next seven weekends.

Hayes said the Big Ten has "the most explosive teams in 10 seasons, and the race looms as the best we've ever had. There are no weak ones, and we're fortunate we don't have to play Minnesota. They're really loaded."

Despite the Buckeyes' two one-sided wins, Hayes said, his team "is still a question mark to all of us. I was not particularly surprised by the two victories, for I feel we have the makings of a pretty good team. We'll know more Saturday."

Although he won three Big Ten crowns and two Rose Bowl games under the limited substitution rule, Hayes said:

"I'm the first to favor the new rules. We can get boys in and out in a hurry, allowing more and fresher ones to play. But it really isn't push-button football, although we can send plays in at any time. Modern football is the most intricate game ever invented. Quarterbacks change plays on the line after calling a different one in the huddle. That calls for a change in all assignments—and even a tackle has 21 techniques he must master to take care of all contingencies.

"In baseball the manager is allowed to call every pitch, every play. Basketball coaches may call time and chat with all five players at any time. But in football, the game most fraught with peril, the final decisions are up to the kids on the field. That's what makes football so much fun to coach."

Waterford Park Double Hits New High Of $481

The daily double payoff struck a new high note for the present meeting Monday at Waterford Park when a couple of outsiders scored victories in the first and second races.

Shah Pet, an 11-1 shot, and Doe Challenge which showed up at 17-1 on the board combined for a $481.60 daily double. The lucky combination was 5-2.

Shah Pet returned $24.80, $8 and $6 while Doe Challenge rewarded its backers at $36.80, $13.60 and $5.80.

Held In Train Plot

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police in suburban Woodlawn took George Henry Calton, 18, into custody Monday and said he twice tried to derail a passenger train. Officers said he had admitted putting a wooden tie on the tracks that jarred a Baltimore & Ohio train southbound from Detroit Monday afternoon, but did not slip off the track. Calton also admitted, police said, he put a tie on the tracks Monday morning, but railroaders spotted it and took it off before any damage was done. Calton was transferred to federal officials to face a charge of attempted train wreck.

Orphan Given OK To Join Teammates

CINCINNATI (AP) — Steve Puritt, 17, who ran afoul of the Ohio High School Athletic Association because he's an orphan, gets to play Friday with his Taylor High School football teammates, with court approval.

Judge Benjamin Schwartz in Juvenile Court gave the youth permission in a court order Monday and added some verbal barbs for the association.

He said, "The boy was born, raised and educated in the Three Rivers (Taylor) district.

"There is no reason to pull him up, make him leave his friends and a nice home just to satisfy the illegal opinion of some athletic authorities."

The youth was a star tackle last fall for Taylor. But W. J. McConnell, association commissioner, ruled he must play for Harrison in 1960 or not at all.

The reason was that Puritt had lived with a sister in the Taylor district. When she moved to Harrison, Steve took a room in a home in the Taylor district. But McConnell said his group's rules required the youth to follow his sister to Harrison.

Judge Schwartz commented, "The sister in Harrison has no room in her new home and Steve would have to sleep in the basement. But the association doesn't care about that."

The judge also made young Pruitt a ward of the court and gave his landlady temporary custody.

Syracuse On Top In Poll; Ole Miss 2nd

By The Associated Press

Syracuse, with a surge in the voting reminiscent of the second half rallies that have won two games for the Orangemen, today moved to the top in the Associated Press football ranking poll after two weeks in second place.

Syracuse displaced Mississippi, leader for two weeks, by a big margin in the voting by 48 newspaper, television and radio football experts who comprise the Associated Press panel. Impressive Iowa moved up from eighth place to fourth as the rankings underwent another wholesale revision. Fourth-place Illinois was the only team which remained in the same place it held after last week's voting.

Ohio State moved up from ninth place after its solid 20-0 victory over Southern California. Kansas slipped from 5th to 10th after its loss to Syracuse and Clemson dropped a notch to eighth. Newcomers are Navy, Purdue, and Arkansas, replacing Washington (No. 3) last week, Nrothwestern (No. 6) and Georgia Tech (No. 10).

In the point scoring on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second etc., it was Syracuse 428 and Ole Miss 402, just about the reverse of last week's figures.

The top teams with first place votes in parentheses:

1.	Syracuse (28)	428
2.	Mississippi (14)	402
3.	Iowa (3)	358
4.	Illinois	295
5.	Ohio State	189
6.	Navy	147
7.	Purdue	127
8.	Clemson	101

Reducer Shares Success Philosophy

By Ida Jean Kain

It's quite wonderful, the feeling of alliance you dieters have with all the column readers. Today's letter from a young mother, giving her well-thought-out plan which helped her triumph over the pounds, is a heart-warming example of this camaraderie.

"I am an avid reader of your column. Your words of wisdom have inspired me to achieve normal weight. I can only say 'thank you!'

"From your column and a bit of my own thinking, too, I have written five helping rules for staying with a diet. I have dieted and failed many times in my life, so I know well what the struggle is like.

"These reminders have been the backbone of the thinking that finally helped me to attain and keep the good figure I have wanted for so long.

"I HOPE you feel they are good enough to print. If they help even one other overweight to succeed, it will be well worth sharing my philosophy. Perhaps you would like to know also, I am a young mother with two small children."

Good enough to print? They couldn't be improved upon.

"Read This Daily — and you can Stick To a Diet!

"1. Be faithful to yourself and eat only during specified times of the day. Remember: the feeling of success is worth that seemingly empty stomach. If you nibble something your guilty feelings alone make you realize it wasn't worth it.

"2. Thinking of eating will only lead to finding excuses for doing so. Focus your thoughts on your goal always. Positive thinking makes for success.

"3. Never go on a 'spree' for one day thinking you'll be back on your diet the next day. Your old way of eating (and thinking) can mean you've defeated your purpose, and all previous days of dieting went for nothing.

"4. CHANGE YOUR attitude about food! It's the way to be a success and stay a success.

"5. Finally, ask yourself this: Is the extra five minutes of pleasure-eating worth missing out on the lasting reward of a shapely, slim figure?"

Readers, post these reminders on the inside of a cupboard door ... or on the refrigerator door. In short, post it where you will see it when you need it most.

Cheers for this diet-philosopher!

Parents Employed By Children Given Retirement Rights

About 25,000 parents working for their sons or daughters in a trade or business will be covered for the first time under Social Security.

The 1960 amendments to the law makes no change in the provision which says that work performed by a parent in the home of a son or daughter is not covered by Social Security and, therefore, cannot count toward the payment of benefits. However, work that a parent does for a son or daughter in a trade or business can now be covered, if a bona fide employer-employe relationship exists.

Such a relationship exists if the person for whom the "employe" works has the right to direct and control him in the way he works both as to the final results and as to the details of when, where, and how the work is to be done. The employer need not actually exercise control; it is sufficient that he has a right to do so.

Many parents whose employment will be covered under this new provision already have earned Social Security credits for other work they have done in the past and the change in the law will make it possible for them to earn additional credits towards retirement, survivors and disability benefits.

Parents working for their grown children in a trade or business who do not already have Social Security cards will need to apply for account numbers. The first report of their wages and payment of taxes due must be paid on or before April 30, 1961, and their Social Security number must be entered on the report.

Local Ordinance Bans Signs On Utility Poles

Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi today warned political candidates a city ordinance prohibits the posting of signs on poles and posts in the city.

Issuing the reminder to both parties and supporters of individual candidates, Chief Radeschi pointed out the law provides a fine of up to $50.

Not only are the signs being posted on utility poles, but some have been placed over traffic signs, he said.

Woman, Camera Make It Easy For Police

DETROIT (AP) — An Ontario woman and her camera made it easy for Detroit police to identify the man she said tried to break into her car. She had pictures of him.

Police developed the roll and asked for a warrant charging Vincent Bertolino, 37, of Detroit with attempt breaking and entering of an automobile to commit a larceny. The Abbotts said the car showed signs of tampering.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Mental Health Survey Studied

Dr. Garry Meyers

People are growing more and more aware of the prevalence of mental illness and of the need to cultivate mental health. Though most are wont to think of mental sickness as related chiefly to adults, there's a growing awareness that children gain or lose in mental health according to the degree of mental health in their parents and other adults with whom they live and mingle. Also, we are begining to realize that mental health in the adult, like physical health, is related to mental health in infancy, childhood and adulthood.

(Mrs. Myers and I have written "A Pledge to Mental Health", which everyone may have free by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

YOU MAY have been reading in your newspaper a report of a significant investigation into the mental health of the American public by a commission authorized by Congress and carried out by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan. The study was based on private interviews by experts with 2,460 men and women chosen at random throughout the nation.

The report, written by Gerald Gurin, Joseph Veroff and Sheila Field of the University of Michigan, has been published as "Americans View Their Mental Health", by Basic Books, nc.

The report covers the following: How happy Americans are and what makes them happy or unhappy; what makes people worry and how some worrying can be healthy; how family problems differ by occupational groups; meaning of nervous breakdowns and why people have them; where and why people seek help — clergymen, doctors, professional (psychiatrists, psychologists, marriage counsellors) and where mental health is headed.

ONLY ONE in ten admit they are "not too happy". More than half of those interviewed mentioned marriage, children or family relationships as a source of happiness. Almost half named money and related material matters as a cause for worry.

Men who hold clerical jobs and wives of unskilled workers are the most discontented and unhappy groups of American families. One out of every five adults has at some time in his life felt close to a "nervous breakdown".

Out of every ten persons who seek help on mental health problems, four go to a clergyman, three to a doctor and only three to a mental health "professional". The need for more professionals is stressed.

"Jobs and Futures in Mental Health Work" by Elizabeth Ogg may be had from Public Affairs Pamphlets, 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y., for 25 cents.

Cambodia Prince Favors Red China Seat Within U.N.

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk, chief of state of Cambodia, told a news conference at Kent State University Monday his country would favor Red China's admission to the United Nations. He prefaced this by saying Cambodia, as a neutral, would not enter into debate before the U.N. on the question.

The prince, here to address the student body, told the news conference he would support Red China's admission to the world organization because Red China has supported Cambodia in border disputes with Thailand and South Vietnam.

"We have had very real frontier difficulties with our neighbors, Thailand and South Vietnam, both of which are closely associated the West," declared the Cambodian leader.

"People are often pointing out to us the difficulty India is having with China about its frontiers as an example of what we can expect from Red China," he continued. "But they seem to forget we have no common frontier with that powerful nation."

The southeast Asian leader has opposed the Soviet move to eliminate Dag Hammerskjold's office of secretary-general of the United Nations.

In his address, the prince dealt with problems of education in Cambodia and internal problems of the country.

Time will be arranged so that the candidates also may attend the "Meet Your Candidate" meeting in New Waterford.

The club will make final plans for the public card party and dance which it will sponsor Oct. 15 at the DAV Hall in West Point. Lunch will be served.

A study of 1,064 U. S. companies reveals that employe payroll deductions for life and health insurance averaged $4.96 a month during 1959. Employers contributed $9.52 monthly per worker.

RAMBLER ANNOUNCES STRONGEST GUARANTEE IN AUTO HISTORY

1 LIFETIME GUARANTEE ON NEW CERAMIC-ARMORED MUFFLER AND TAIL-PIPE STANDARD ON ALL '61 MODELS

Born of space-age developments, Rambler announces on all 1961 models a new Ceramic-Armored muffler and tail-pipe guaranteed against defects for the lifetime of the car while in the hands of the original owner. This covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. Every '61 Rambler muffler and tail-pipe is completely covered with a special ceramic coating—similar to that used in rockets and missiles—to give lasting protection against rust and corrosion caused by water, salt and acids. Another Rambler first!

2 12-MONTH, 12,000-MILE WARRANTY EXTENDED TO ALL NEW RAMBLER OWNERS

Now Rambler extends to all new Rambler owners its comprehensive full-year or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever occurs first. In fact, this liberal warranty, announced to dealers more than a year ago, also covers total replacement cost including parts and labor. It applies to all 1961 Rambler models and to 1960 Ramblers still within the warranty period. The normal industry warranty covers only 90 days or 4,000 miles.

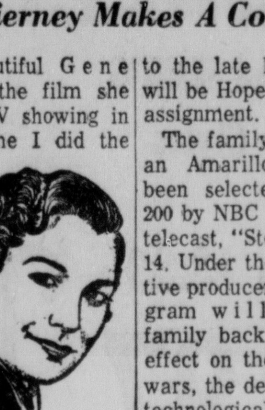
Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Gene Tierney Makes A Comeback



Marie Torre

As the coolly beautiful Gene Tierney says about the film she just completed for TV showing in November, "This time I did the job first and talked about it later."

For awhile—six years, to be exact — the suspicion grew that the sponsor was a jinx to Miss Tierney, or vice versa. It was while she was preparing to appear in the "Theater" series' premiere six years ago that she suffered a nervous breakdown.

Four years later, when the show management got wind of her recovery, officials invited her back, and she jumped at the opportunity to resume her career. A hotel suite overladen with flowers greeted her as she arrived in Hollywood midst a fanfare of publicity.

BUT THE "RETURN" proved to be premature. Days before she was to report to the studio she had another breakdown and she entered the Menninger Foundation in Kansas for the second time.

"Am I fully recovered?" echoed Miss Tierney, who married oilman Howard Lee last July. "I hope so. My mother says she can tell I'm myself again because I'm quieter now than I've been in years. When I'm well, I'm not so exuberant. Anyway, I like to think I've served my terms."

Miss Tierney's performance in "Journey to a Wedding," the Nov. 6 playlet on "Theater," represents her first acting in seven years. Her last movie was "The Left Hand of God," with the late Humphrey Bogart. She hopes to face cameras, if not frequently, occasionally from now on.

"NOT THAT I have any commitments at the moment," she pointed out. "I was offered a play, but that would be biting off more than I could chew at this time. Also, two or three TV shows have made proposals since word got out about my return.

"But my studio, 20th Century-Fox, wouldn't let me accept them. The shows weren't good enough, they told me.

"I still owe Fox a picture, not to mention my undying gratitude. Do you know that Fox kept me on salary for three years after my breakdown? How can you feel anything but affection for a company that does that much for you?

"Anyway, Fox is looking into a movie for me, which pleases me no end. In the future, I may do an occasional spot on TV, but my heart's really with the movies."

No matter how active she may be in Hollywood, however, the Howard Lees will continue to reside at her home in Connecticut.

"Howard's business will take us to Texas now and then, but Connecticut is home," she said. "We just put new carpeting in the den. I'd say that's indicative of permanency."

BOB HOPE will examine the life and times of Will Rogers in the "Project 20" show to be devoted to the late humorist in March. It will be Hope's second "Project 20" assignment.

The family of Roy L. Robertson, an Amarillo, Tex., grocer, has been selected out of more than 200 by NBC for the initial full-hour telecast, "Story of a Family," Nov. 14. Under the supervision of executive producer Irving Gitlin, the program will trace the Robertson family back to 1872, describe the effect on the family of two world wars, the depression and the many technological changes which the 20th century has seen. . . .

"I'm positive," writes Bob Hope, "that you're going to be crazy about my shows for the 1960-61 season. If you're not, what are you doing in a position of such responsibility?"

PRODUCER Albert McCleery say he's trying earnestly to prove three points in the "CBS TV Workshop" series, which premiere Sunday:

"First, that there can be a vast audience for anthology drama. Second, that a new group of young playwrights can be discovered and developed just as was done 10 years ago. Third, and most important, the cost of dramatic shows can be reduced to a feasible point with the Cameo technique."

Such noble objectives are deserving of the very best wishes, at the very least.

Youth, Father Charged With Bank Robbery

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Federal authorities have charged a 16-year-old boy and his father with the $62,628 holdup of an Akron bank.

Akron police said the boy, William Ellsworth Evans, has admitted he was the one dressed in overalls who leaped over the counter at a branch of the First National Bank Sept. 26 to scoop money into a shopping bag.

Ironically, Akron police had the father in custody Friday for questioning in another matter but released him. He has since disappeared. Both father and son were picked up for questioning about alleged car thefts.

When Akron police went to Pittsburgh Saturday to question the younger Evans, he readily admitted the car thefts and also told of holding up the bank, according to Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright. Police said the boy related details of the holdup which convinced them he had been involved.

Police said the father has a record going back to 1924. He served 30 days in 1931 for possession of stolen goods and served a penitentiary term in Pennsylvania after being convicted of breaking and entering in 1934. He had been heavily in debt recently, investigators said.

When the west Akron branch of the bank was held up last week there were 12 employes and three customers in the office. One man stood guard with a gun while the money was being taken from the tellers' cages. The holdup men fled in a late model car parked in the bank's lot.

Bernard C. Brown, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said young Egans has been charged with the interstate transportation of two stolen cars—one from Akron to New Jersey last July and the other from Pittsburgh to Akron in September.

Arraigned Monday before U.S. Commissioner Fred Obley on the auto theft charges, Evans was held in the Allegheny County jail under $1,000 bond.

Ohio Oil Swings $9 Million Deal In Acquiring Firm

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A deal of nearly $9 million has put ownership of Kinney-Coastal Oil Co. properties in the hands of Ohio Oil Co.

He said it was approved by Kinney Coastal stockholders Aug. 19.

The deal includes a purchase price of $1,629,000 plus an oil and gas production payment of $7,300,000. The latter is expected to cover a period of about seven years, Bish said.

Kinney - Coastal has holdings, including royalties and leases, in Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Mississippi and Colorado. About 80 per cent of the acquisition, Bish said, involves the Garland field in the Big Horn basin of Wyoming where most of Kinney - Coastal's net production, about 2,300 barrels of oil daily, comes from.

Chester VFW Enrolls 3 In Membership Drive

John Grimes, Archie West and David Smith were enrolled as members of Chester Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6450 at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

Robert Milby, William Maple, John Jordan, William Price and Willard Enochs were named a committee to meet with American Legion Post 121 to plan the annual Christmas party for children of the community.

Plans were made to hold dances two Saturday nights of each month during the winter. Music will be furnished by an orchestra.

The post will sponsor a bowling team this winter. Refreshments were served to 15 by William Glover, commander, and his committee. The next meeting will be Nov. 7.

DiSalle To Make Talks In Illinois Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's press secretary said Tuesday that the governor will make two speeches in Illinois Saturday.

Press secretary Jerry Poston said DiSalle will attend a luncheon in Chicago at which he is not expected to speak, then give a political speech at an afternoon rally in Chicago Heights and another at a Democratic dinner that evening in Kankakee, Ill.

Poston said the governor plans to return to Ohio Saturday night.

Ceramists Set Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society and the Pennsylvania Ceramics Association is scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 11, in Pittsburgh, including a plant tour, dinner and a business session.

Student councilors from Pittsburgh area high schools will be guests. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the councilors with the challenge awaiting students in the ceramic industry as well as the need for trained personnel to fill available positions, ACS members said. Last year, 75 councilors attended.

The program will start at 2:30 with tours of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Co. Garber Research Center in West Mifflin Borough. Tours will continue at 10-minute intervals until 3:30.

Dinner is scheduled at 6:30 at the Park Schenley Hotel. The program at 8:15 in Mellon Institute will include remarks by Dr. George Spencer-Strong, president of ACS. The principal speaker will be William S. Lowe, president of the A. P. Green Brick Co. in Mexico, Mo.

At the Nov. 8 meeting, nominees for offices in 1961 will be presented by Ralph Gibson, chairman of the nominating committee.

GOP Experience, Maturity Theme Hit By Johnson

After a day of campaigning and conferences with party leaders in New York City, he was scheduled to make sorties into suburban New Rochelle and Mt. Vernon.

Johnson invaded New York after an all-day barn-storming trip through New Jersey and Delaware, an expedition he described as "a delightful visit with receptions by enthusiastic crowds."

His last two stops were at Georgetown and Camden in Delaware, whose three electoral votes are the minimum alloted any state.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Gene Tierney Makes A Comeback

Marie Torre

As the coolly beautiful Gene Tierney says about the film she just completed for TV showing in November, "This time I did the job first and talked about it later."

For awhile—six years, to be exact — the suspicion grew that the sponsor was a jinx to Miss Tierney, or vice versa. It was while she was preparing to appear in the "Theater" series' premiere six years ago that she suffered a nervous breakdown.

Four years later, when the show management got wind of her recovery, officials invited her back, and she jumped at the opportunity to resume her career. A hotel suite overladen with flowers greeted her as she arrived in Hollywood midst a fanfare of publicity.

BUT THE "RETURN" proved to be premature. Days before she was to report to the studio she had another breakdown and she entered the Menninger Foundation in Kansas for the second time.

"Am I fully recovered?" echoed Miss Tierney, who married oilman Howard Lee last July. "I hope so. My mother says she can tell I'm myself again because I'm quieter now than I've been in years. When I'm well, I'm not so exuberant. Anyway, I like to think I've served my terms."

Miss Tierney's performance in "Journey to a Wedding," the Nov. 6 playlet on "Theater," represents her first acting in seven years. Her last movie was "The Left Hand of God," with the late Humphrey Bogart. She hopes to face cameras, if not frequently, occasionally from now on.

"NOT THAT I have any commitments at the moment," she pointed out. "I was offered a play, but that would be biting off more than I could chew at this time. Also, two or three TV shows have made proposals since word got out about my return.

"But my studio, 20th Century-Fox, wouldn't let me accept them. The shows weren't good enough, they told me.

"I still owe Fox a picture, not to mention my undying gratitude. Do you know that Fox kept me on salary for three years after my breakdown? How can you feel anything but affection for a company that does that much for you?

"Anyway, Fox is looking into a movie for me, which pleases me no end. In the future, I may do an occasional spot on TV, but my heart's really with the movies."

No matter how active she may be in Hollywood, however, the Howard Lees will continue to reside at her home in Connecticut.

"Howard's business will take us to Texas now and then, but Connecticut is home," she said. "We just put new carpeting in the den. I'd say that's indicative of permanency."

BOB HOPE will examine the life and times of Will Rogers in the "Project 20" show to be devoted to the late humorist in March. It will be Hope's second "Project 20" assignment.

The family of Roy L. Robertson, an Amarillo, Tex., grocer, has been selected out of more than 200 by NBC for the initial full-hour telecast, "Story of a Family," Nov. 14. Under the supervision of executive producer Irving Gitlin, the program will trace the Robertson family back to 1872, describe the effect on the family of two world wars, the depression and the many technological changes which the 20th century has seen. . . .

"I'm positive," writes Bob Hope, "that you're going to be crazy about my shows for the 1960-61 season. If you're not, what are you doing in a position of such responsibility?"

PRODUCER Albert McCleery say he's trying earnestly to prove three points in the "CBS TV Workshop" series, which premiere Sunday:

"First, that there can be a vast audience for anthology drama. Second, that a new group of young playwrights can be discovered and developed just as was done 10 years ago. Third, and most important, the cost of dramatic shows can be reduced to a feasible point with the Cameo technique."

Such noble objectives are deserving of the very best wishes, at the very least.

Youth, Father Charged With Bank Robbery

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Federal authorities have charged a 16-year-old boy and his father with the $62,628 holdup of an Akron bank.

Akron police said the boy, William Ellsworth Evans, has admitted he was the one dressed in overalls who leaped over the counter at a branch of the First National Bank Sept. 26 to scoop money into a shopping bag.

Ironically, Akron police had the father in custody Friday for questioning in another matter but released him. He has since disappeared. Both father and son were picked up for questioning about alleged car thefts.

When Akron police went to Pittsburgh Saturday to question the younger Evans, he readily admitted the car thefts and also told of holding up the bank, according to Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright. Police said the boy related details of the holdup which convinced them he had been involved.

The boy told them all the money was in his father's possession except for a small amount spent for clothing by young Evans.

Police said the father has a record going back to 1924. He served 30 days in 1931 for possession of stolen goods and served a penitentiary term in Pennsylvania after being convicted of breaking and entering in 1934. He had been heavily in debt recently, investigators said.

When the west Akron branch of the bank was held up last week there were 12 employes and three customers in the office. One man stood guard with a gun while the money was being taken from the tellers' cages. The holdup men fled in a late model car parked in the bank's lot.

Bernard C. Brown, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said young Egans has been charged with the interstate transportation of two stolen cars—one from Akron to New Jersey last July and the other from Pittsburgh to Akron in September.

Arraigned Monday before U.S. Commissioner Fred Obley on the auto theft charges, Evans was held in the Allegheny County jail under $1,000 bond.

Ohio Oil Swings $9 Million Deal In Acquiring Firm

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A deal of nearly $9 million has put ownership of Kinney-Coastal Oil Co. properties in the hands of Ohio Oil Co.

He said it was approved by Kinney Coastal stockholders Aug. 19.

The deal includes a purchase price of $1,629,000 plus an oil and gas production payment of $7,300,000. The latter is expected to cover a period of about seven years, Bish said.

Kinney - Coastal has holdings, including royalties and leases, in Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, Mississippi, and Colorado. About 80 per cent of the acquisition, Bish said, involves the Garland field in the Big Horn basin of Wyoming where most of Kinney - Coastal's net production, about 2,300 barrels of oil daily, comes from.

GOP Experience, Maturity Theme Hit By Johnson

The Texas senator arrived by plane shortly before midnight to help corral New York's 45 electoral votes for himself and his running-mate presidential nominee John F. Kennedy.

After a day of campaigning and conferences with party leaders in New York City, he was scheduled to make sorties into suburban New Rochelle and Mt. Vernon.

Johnson invaded New York after an all-day barn-storming trip through New Jersey and Delaware, an expedition he described as "a delightful visit with receptions by enthusiastic crowds."

His last two stops were at Georgetown and Camden in Delaware, whose three electoral votes are the minimum allotted any state.

This one defies my ability to describe it, but I know you would like to see it if you want a finer home. It is one of stone and cedar construction, lifetime roof, excellent hot water heating system, two full baths, three beautiful bedrooms, plus extra guest facilities, separate garage, nice landscaped grounds comprising about an acre—giving a fine view of the Ohio river. Priced at a fraction of replacement cost. Inquire about it.

GE Strikers Get Warning On Violence

CLEVELAND (AP)—The General Electric Co. said Monday night it would take disciplinary action, including discharge, against any of the nearly 3,000 striking employes who engage in threats, intimidation, violence or vandalism.

The announcement was made after office workers were barred by pickets from several of the company's plants. Police cleared the way for supervisors and office workers to enter.

The company said salaried workers were stopped at its three plants at 1133 E. 152nd St. and at the wire plant in Euclid.

The walkout here is part of a nationwide strike against GE in 55 plants. The strike was called by the International Union of Electrical Workers at 12:01 a.m. Sunday after failure to reach agreement on a new contract.

David J. Fitzmaurice, president of IUE Local 707, said Monday night that there would be no mass picketing here Tuesday. He made the announcement even before the company's discharge threat.

"We had announced a peaceful picketing policy and this will be followed," he said. "Today's incidents were the result of normal first-day picketing."

Herman L. Weiss, general manager of the GE lamp division at Nela Park, described the pushing and shoving at the main entrance there as "uncivilized and crude antics."

"The antics displayed by some IUE pickets were entirely uncalled for," he said. "In spite of published statements of union leaders that picketing would be legal and orderly, mass picketing existed almost everywhere.

A company spokesman said GE attorneys had under consideration court injunction procedure as a result of the "unlawful picketing." He added that no decision had been made.

Fitzmaurice suggested that the company work out some means of identification for those workers who are entitled to enter the plants "or close the gates of some of the plants."

Police Chief Gets City Manager Nod In NAACP Issue

CINCINNATI (AP) — City Manager C. A. Harrell has backed up Police Chief Stanley Schrotel in a dispute with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Cincinnati officials of the NAACP asked Schrotel to apologize for remarks made about their group and the American Civil Liberties Union in a speech Sept. 22 at Roanoke, Va.

Harrell, in a letter yesterday to the Cincinnati NAACP branch, said:

"As private citizens I think you will agree they (city officials) have the right under the constitution of expressing their personal points of view even through such views might be critical of either public or private organizations."

Schrotel, speaking as an officer of the International Association of Police Chiefs, told the Virginia Association of Police Chiefs he thought the NAACP and civil liberties group sought to control police by calling for citizens' boards to review police work.
